GREATER BOSTON PROTESTS "L" EVILS

BRITISH HALT GERMAN DRIVE

BROADSIDE AGAINST 'L' SERVICE

Commission Deluged With Complaints; Demand Grows for Public Control

A triple broadside against the wretched service conditions of the Elevated road has been fired at the company within the last twenty-four hours. It all adds to the flood of protests with which the Public Service Commission is being deluged, and shows that the commission struck a popular chord by advocating public control as the only means of getting the people of Greater Boston proper transportation service.

The Trade Association of South Boston has officially drawn up resolutions of protest against the "L" and forwarded them to the Public Service Commission. These excoriate the incoent and inhuman manner in which passengers are crowded into cars in the new Dorchester tunnel, and ask that the commission take immediate steps to compel the road to improve conditions.

INCONVENIENCES SERVICE.

The United Improvement Association, made up of members of all the improvement associations in Greater Boston, condemns the service, denounces the six-cent fare proposal, except for rehabilitation and depreciation, and declares in favor of public control by a single commissioner.

The people of Cambridge, disgusted at the futility of numberless petitions and protests to the company, have framed resolutions of objection, have put the matter in the hands of the City Council, have sent out calls for a mass meeting, and are thoroughly organized to fight for quick relief.

They demand:

That immediate relief be given from the dangerous overcrowding of the Harvard Square subway by better service on surface cars.

That the road stop at once the issuance of transfers to passengers who ride in automobiles.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS WILL GO TO ELLIS ISLAND

Washington, March 7.—An agreement for the joint use of the immigration quarters at Ellis Island by the War, Navy and Labor departments was reached today, the Labor Department announced. Because of the great falling off in immigration, to less than one-tenth of the normal figures, it was possible to utilize the island for other purposes. The War Department will use the section as temporary quarters for wounded soldiers before their transfer to base hospitals, while the navy section will be used for the accommodation of several thousand sailors before they are permanently assigned to their vessels. The section allotted to the Labor Department will be used for the continuation of the immigrant section.

GEORGE VON L. MEYER IS NOT QUITE SO WELL

"Not quite as well as yesterday, but is resting comfortably," was the official bulletin issued by Dr. Henry Jackson today regarding the condition of George von L. Meyer, who has been confined to his Beacon street home two weeks with a tumor of the liver.

SUSQUEHANNA ASHORE, CAPTAIN AND CREW SAFE

Beach Haven, N. J., March 7.—The steamship Susquehanna is ashore off this port today. The captain and crew have been taken off.

SOUTH BOSTON CONDEMNS MISERABLE CAR 'SERVICE'

The following resolutions of protest against Elevated service have been passed by the Trade Association of South Boston and sent to the Public Service Commission:

Resolved, tha tit is the opinion of the Trade Association of South Boston, comprising business and professional men of the district, that never in the history of the city, has the street ca service of our section been so deplorable and inadequate as at present, and that a continuance of the same will mean a further depreciation in property values, an increased dissatisfaction of the people, tending to hundreds moving to other localities, where steam and street car service may be better, and also the further and greater annoyance that exist, inconveniencing the thousands of residents in their efforts to reach their places of business, or the retal shopping district of the city, or the theatres; and that it is the unanimous desire of the members of the Trade Association, in regular meeting assembled, that this resolution be sent to the Public Service Commission, with an earnest appeal to them, that they immediately make careful investigation, and take subsequent action for the good of the people and improvement of the service, as will result—

1st—In a more humane consideration of human beings riding on the cars in and out of the Dorchester avenue tunnel, to the end that there may be an immediate cessation of the indecent, unhealthy cowding not only of cars, but of the stations of the tunnel, and there may be a greater protection of the people, within the Broadway area, so that patrons will not be in danger from the winds sweeping from the bay into that area.

2d—That the Public Service Commission, after such investigation and confirmation of these, our protest, shall immdiately take such action as to compel the Boston Elevated Company to put into service more cars so that the average number of passengers riding in each car shall not be 80 or 100, but that cars sufficient in number be used so as to average not more than 50 passengers to a car.

3d—That, whle enforcing the regulations established by the City Council for the taking off of cars from Washington street prior to 530 p. m. daily, there is no defence on the part of the Elevated company for keeping the cars off after that hour, and that your commission immediately take action to the end that there be service on Washington street after 530 p. m., of particular benefit to the public for theatre service.

Respectfully submitted,
THE TRADE ASSOCIATION OF SOUTH BOSTON.
Charles J. Hess, Secretary.

Will Increase Rhode Island Trolley Fares April 1

Providence, R. I., March 7.—Street car fares throughout the State of Rhode Island will be increased beginning April 1, according to a recommendation made today to the Legislature by the Public Utilities Commission.

The Rhode Island Company, controlling all the street car lines in the State, appealed for the right to charge higher rates more than a year ago. The company was informed of the new schedule by the commission today.

WILL NET $600,000.

It is claimed that the new rates will net the company approximately $600,000 in extra revenue a year.

Advocates of State ownership are up in arms, claiming that the move is one of the biggest political steals in the history of the State. It was openly declared by some of the opponents of the move that the people had been tricked and their rights violated.

A special legislative committee, appointed a year ago to investigate the affairs of the Rhode Island Company, did not report to the Legislature until today, after the new price list had been granted.

PUT THROUGH IN "JOKER."

Prominent legislators expected this commission to report its findings before any definite step was taking about acceding to the company's demands. The bill, however, by which the committee was created reads that it shall report to the public utilities commission which has absolute power to raise fares. This "joker," it is charged, was carefully put through by friends of the road.

With the exception of a two-mile zone in Providence proper, fares throughout the State are increased. Thousands of commuters near Providence are on the warpath, and though apparently powerless to act, threaten to find some method of fighting the higher rates. The changes to the principal commuting points to the city are as follows:

CHANGES FOR COMMUTERS.

Woonsocket, 20 cents to 25.
Rocky Point, 10 cents to 17.
Buttonwoods, 15 cents to 21.
East Greenwich, 20 cents to 23.
River Point, 15 cents to 22.
Pawtucket, 5 cents to 7.
The twenty-ride books for the Riverside section, which sold for $1.00, will be abolished after April 1, and a straight 9-cent fare charged.

The legislative committee also recommended the abatement of certain taxes due from the company for repairs and track laying expenses. This will save the company approximately $100,000 in back bills.

GUARDSMEN FOIL PLOT TO BLOW UP CANAL LOCK

Oswego, N. Y., March 7.—An attempt is believed to have been made to blow up Syphon Lock and cripple canal transportation. The barge canal opens into Lake Ontario at this point.

Four men, seen prowling about the lock, were driven off with a volley by state guardsmen. They escaped.

TYPHUS CLAIMS VICTIM IN BOSTON HOSPITAL

The first death from typhus in years in this city, was reported to the Health Department. The victim was Leo Tritter of Chelsea, who was taken to a Boston hospital on February 20, after he had been lying ill for several days. Dr. Sellards of Pentham, who fought the plague in Serbia was called in and diagnosed the case as typhus.

SHELL SHOCK VICTIM RESTORED BY U-BOAT

An Atlantic Port, March 7.—Shells from a German U-boat proved a boon to Walter Jones, a soldier of Glen Cove, L. I., who was invalided home and reached here from a French port today. Jones was rendered deaf and dumb as a result of shell shock in the trenches. On his way across the Atlantic his ship was attacked by a submarine, and in the excitement of the attack he recovered his speech and hearing.

NEW ENGLAND HONOR ROLL

Washington, March 7.—An additional list of casualties among the American troops in France is reported by General Pershing. Following are the New England casualties:

KILLED IN ACTION.

PRIVATE ELLERY A. CHISM, 104th Infantry, Petersham.

WAGONER CHARLES CAVANAUGH, 101st Infantry, Medford.

WOUNDED IN ACTION.

CORPORAL ALPHONSUS C. McCARTHY, infantry, Framingham.

PRIVATE JOHN ARDA, infantry, Chelsea.

PRIVATE RALPH C. CHRISTIANSON, 102nd Machine Gun Battalion, Proctor, Vt.

PRIVATE RALPH C. WHEELER, 103d Infantry, Gilsum, N. H.

DIED FROM DISEASE.

PRIVATE NORMAN N. MacCRILLIS, infantry, Winslow, Me.

PLAN BROTHERHOOD FOR ENLISTED MEN

Washington, March 7.—The War and Navy departments were asked today to approve of a proposed society for enlisted men of both branches of the service to be known as the Patriotic Brotherhood. The aims of the society are for the moral and social betterment of the enlisted men and include pledges to lead honorable and upright lives both in this country and abroad.

ADVANCE EXPECTED IN GASOLINE PRICE

New York, March 7.—A sharp advance is expected in the price of gasoline, kerosene and other products of petroleum as a result of the advanced price for crude oil to be announced by the government within the next few days. One effect anticipated is a material lessening of pleasure riding in automobiles.

France to Decorate Pershing

WAR CROSS HONOR FOR PERSHING

American Commander Will Be Decorated by Premier Clemenceau of France

By HENRY G. WALES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

With the American Army in France, March 7.—General John J. Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, is to be decorated with the war cross by Premier Clemenceau.

After the premier's visit to the American front on Sunday, when six American soldiers were decorated, General Pershing and M. Clemenceau dined together in the latter's private railway car. Later, as he was leaving for Paris, the premier allowed it to become known that he intended to decorate the American commander.

Moving pictures taken of the ceremonies on Sunday, when the French premier bestowed decorations upon the Americans, who had especially distinguishe themselves in the fight north of Toul a week ago, have developed well, despite the bad weather prevailing when they were taken.

A captured German machine gun, equipped with silencer, is the latest model of fighting material.

The Americans opened the captured ammunition gingerly, fearing that some lock would explode, but it proved harmless. The machine gun will be equipped with a plate telling by whom and when it was captured and will be sent to Washington.

MEXICAN SERVICE BADGE AUTHORIZED BY WILSON

Washington, March 7.—President Wilson has authorized a Mexican service badge for all officers and enlisted men who participated in military operations in or near Mexico during the troubles with that country during the past several years.

The badges are available to men who took part in the Vera Cruz operation, Pershing's punitive expedition, engagements of April 12, 1911, and February 7, 1913, and border patrol service where there were casualties among their own units.

18 BRITISH VESSELS SUNK DURING THE WEEK

London, March 7.—Eighteen British ships sunk by German submarines during last week, bringing the total of English vessels lost during the past fifty-three weeks up to 1,133, it was announced today. Of the ships sent down during the past week three, Owing to over 1,600 tons and six were of less tonnage, over 2,000 British merchantmen arrived at British ports during the week.

BRITAIN BARS GRAIN FOR BREWING PURPOSES

London, March 7.—Sir Hilbert Parker, speaking for the food minister, announced in the House of Commons today that, until further orders, no fresh grain may be used for brewing purposes.

NEW HAVEN ENGINEER SUFFERS BROKEN SKULL

New York, March 7.—Leaning too far out of his cab window, Engineer John Badwell of New Haven suffered a fractured skull early today as his train passed over Hellgate Bridge coming into New York from Boston. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

PETROGRAD PEOPLE IN FLIGHT

Report That the Germans Are Advancing on Capital From Narva

By International News Service.

Copenhagen, March 7.—There is a heavy exodus of all classes from Petrograd towards Moscow, and the railway lines are all congested to the point of suffocation, said a dispatch from Petrograd today.

It added that the city was full of rumors and that high excitement prevailed. One report is that the Germans have renewed their advance from Narva, while another is that the Bolshevik government may repudiate the peace treaty signed with the Germans at Brest-Litovsk.

The dispatch failed to state whether or not Premier Lenine and Foreign Minister Trotsky had gone to Moscow, but it is presumed that if they have not already departed they soon will do so. Both are to take part in the All Russian Congress which is scheduled to open at Moscow on Saturday to consider the peace situation.

America to Support Russian Government and Francis Will Stay

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7.—The United States is the only nation that has withheld assent to Japan's proposed military expedition into Siberia. All other friendly countries, as well as China, have supported the plan.

Whether it will be carried out in its entirety, with complete occupation by Japanese troops of the entire transsiberia railway from Vladivostok to Lake Baikal, will depend entirely on developments.

Should Russia submit tamely to the German demands and occupation, it is believed here Japan would act without fear of reprisal. Should the Bolsheviki withdraw before the Germans and refuse to meet their demands, Japan will move very slowly, with every effort will be made to placate the Russian people. While it is certainly weighing the problem before acting.

The state department with heads the text of Ambassador Francis' confidential report regarding recognition of a de facto government in Russia. As pointed out in International News Service dispatches, the primary stand of the American ambassador was based on the belief that not yet lost to the entente, has had a good deal to do with the formulation of a broad program for the United States in Siberia.

Francis at Vologda has let it be known that he has already recommended to President Wilson that the United States as an evidence of good faith and its confidence in the ultimate success of democratic russia recognize any government which the Russian people may choose.

This action, together with his announced determination to remain in Russia, has made Mr. Francis a strong factor in Russian affairs, according to information reaching here today.

Whether the United States has had any reply from Japan to its unofficial statement of position on the Siberian question is not announced by the State Department. Officials are decidedly reticent in discussing the situation. It is pointed out that exaggerated stories already printed have

Big Fleet of Tanks Will Be Built at Ford Plant

By International News Service.

Detroit, March 7.—The Ford Motor Company will soon begin building a fleet of tanks for the United States Army at its Detroit plant, according to an announcement here today.

A model to be submitted to the War Department is now under construction, and just as soon as it has been officially approved the machines will be turned out with all possible speed.

It is estimated that the war consignment can be delivered to the government for shipment to the American expeditionary force in France within two months to six weeks, and additional shipments will be made at regular intervals.

Information regarding the mechanism or construction of the tanks is withheld.

RUMANS YIELD TO KAISER IN PEACE PACT

Amsterdam, March 7.—That Germany plans to occupy Odessa, the chief Ukrainian port on the Black Sea, as revealed today by the terms of the peace pact signed by the central powers and Rumania.

One of the terms of the pact was that Rumania shall give all resources and aid to the central powers in transporting troops through Moldavia and Bessarabia to Odessa.

Rumania emerged from the war with a loss of between 4,000 and 5,000 square miles of territory and ceded all her coast on the Black Sea. Rumania will still have no outlet to the sea, due to the Danube, according to the treaty. The Danube will be under control of Hungaria.

The war proved disastrous for Rumania, for although the Hungarian "irredenta" petition, one of the chief causes of the outbreak of hostilities in 1914, will be satisfied, and economic concessions are made, nearly everything mentioned in the original terms imposed by the Central Powers upon the Balkan kingdom.

Almost from the beginning of the war, and until she entered the conflict on the side of the Allies, Rumania was a bone of contention between the Entente and Teuton diplomats. Lured by hopes of Rumanian grain by the Teutons in 1915, at a time when the entrance of the Rumans on the side of the Allies might have, for a time stayed off any action, but from the first the aimsof Carol and King Charles, though a Hohenzollern, would eventually declare for war against the Central Powers.

The presence of some 2,000,000 Rumun-speaking inhabitants in the Hungarian province of Transylvania made any other action impossible. There was just the same rumor in Rumania for the rescue of their "sacred" brethren as there was in Italy before that power declared war on Austria in 1915.

For a time the Rumanian armies met with a phenomenal success. The troops swept through the passes of the Carpathians and advanced rapidly across the Transylvanian plains, capturing town after town, and messing with very little opposition

DRIVE OFF GERMAN RAIDERS

Strong Thrust Made Near Epehy; Another Near Poelcappelle

By International News Service.

London, March 7.—The Germans directed a strong raiding thrust against the British lines near Epehy during the night, but were driven off, the War Office announced today.

The attack was accompanied by a heavy bombardment.

Another raid was attempted near Poelcappelle (on the West Flanders front), but it was repulsed also.

There were cannonades in the sectors of Ypres, Neuve Chapelle and Lens.

American Troops Hold 8-Mile Curve Sector to the Northeast of Toul

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7.—The sector northeast of Toul, in Lorraine, held exclusively by American troops, is being gradually extended, it was learned at the War Department.

The distance in a straight line from one end of the sector to the other now is about 4½ miles. Actually the length of the front is about eight miles, due to wide bends at many points along the line.

That the enemy has found it impossible to force this line back is pointed to with pride by army officers here.

INDUSTRIALS STRONG IN A FEEBLE MARKET

New York, March 7.—There was a steady tone to the stock market at the opening, with offerings light and in small amounts.

Although a number of issues were in support at concessions, for the greater part of the first hour some of the industrials showed a strong tone because of expectations that the showing to be made in the statements for 1917 would include profits, etc. Allis Chalmers was one of the strong features, moving up 1¾ to 24¾. Railway Steel Springs advanced 2¼ to 48¾.

Bethlehem was exceptionally weak, falling 1¾ to 43¾. Crucible after selling at 83 dropped back to 82¾.

Atlantic Gulf & West Indies was unusually active, selling up three points to 113¾. Steel common ranged between 99¾ and 99. General Motors dropped three points to 121.

German Press Fears Siberian Invasion and Prepares Public

By International News Service.

Geneva, March 7.—The German press is greatly agitated over the possibility of Japanese intervention in Siberia, and the German people have already been warned to expect it.

Advices from Berlin today quoted the Socialist newspaper, Vorwaerts, as saying that President Wilson is undoubtedly giving deep thought to the matter, and that there possibly will be an international agreement by which Japan will land troops in Asiatic Russia to prevent the trans-Siberian railway and the supplies at Vladivostok from falling into German hands.

The Rhenish Westphalian Gazette assures its readers that Japan could not possibly get an army to the eastern front.

The Weser Zeitung, the organ of the German shipping interests, adds its assurances to those of the Rhenish Westphalian Gazette.

Plot of Army Officers and Students Against Bolsheviki Discovered

Petrograd, March 7.—Following the evacuation of Petrograd by several of the ministries of Bolshevik government, a conspiracy to seize the capital was formed among a number of former army officers and students, it became known today.

The plot to overthrow the Bolshevik authority still remaining in Petrograd was discovered. Their headquarters was attacked and six of the students shot and killed

The War in Europe

By ANTHONY ARNOUX,
Famous Writer on Military Topics.

In view of the promises made last year by the British government as to the amount of tonnage it had arranged to have put under construction, the actual output of 58,000 tons in January 1918, announced yesterday by Sir Eric Geddes in the House of Commons, seems highly disappointing.

Particularly is this so in view of another announcement also made in the same place yesterday by Commander Bellairs to the effect that 76,000 tons of British vessels were sunk each week in the same month, or 12,000 more tons in one week than were replaced in the whole of that month, which had increased to more than 50,000 tons per week in February.

The aggregate sinkings for the two months are thus over 600,000 tons, while construction at the January rate would only have been 116,000, the net loss therefore working out at about 560,000 tons.

Yesterday the sinking of two vessels out of the ordinary was reported, one the Calgarian of 17,000 tons, an Anchor Liner, in the service of the British Admiralty, and the other the Armenia, one of the German ships seized by the United States in February last year. This is the third of these vessels sunk.

According to reports of German origin Rumania has consented to sign a preliminary treaty of peace whereby she among other things, cedes the Dobrudja, as far as the Danube, to Bulgaria.

This includes nearly all the habitable part of this province, probably inhabited by about 300,000 persons, whom a comparatively small portion are Rumanians by race. For some reason or other Bulgaria sets great store on the acquisition of this not particularly valuable or attractive region.

MEAT SUPPLY SHORT.

The British expect to have a rather hard time for the next six weeks or so as regards food on their own statements. The meat supply is falling rapidly in quantity, but 85.5 per cent of the amount which came to hand in the London central markets in January, 1917, having reached there in January this year, and the supplies in 1917 was of course not equal to that in 1914. The figures for February have not yet reached us in detail, but are understood to show no improvement over those of January. Add to this shortness of meat, the lack of cereals, fats, butter, cheese, etc., and it will be seen that until the Spring actually comes in with such relief as may bring, the British fears appear to have some justification.

It is reported from various sources that the Russo-German peace treaty may fall of confirmation by the Russian soviets, in which event, it is asserted that Lenine and Trotsky will resign. Another cable announces that it is the intention of the Bolshevik government to remove the capital to Moscow and to declare Petrograd a free port. Both of these rumors need additional confirmation.

A dispatch from Valparizo, Chili, relates the riddle of the fate of the crew of the German raider, the See Adler, wrecked in the Pacific sometime ago, a schooner with them arly today.

Germans Angered at Being Called 'Barbarians'

By International News Service.

Amsterdam, Feb. 17 (By Mail)—The Germans have a new peace term, according to Captain von Salzmann, military critic of the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin.

Writing in his newspaper, Von Salzmann said: "The Germans will never lay down their arms until allied statesmen and allied newspapers quit calling them 'Huns' and 'criminals.'

Continuing, Von Salzmann said that any peace made while the Germans are still regarded as barbarians would be not better than an armistice.

aboard being announced to have arrived at the Chilean port mentioned.

Bad weather has the past two days considerably interfered with the fighting on the western front. Still, the number of raids continues above normal, and in sectors the artillery fighting is of considerable violence.

As long as the weather continues bad we need not, however, expect any important movements to develop.

The most significant item in yesterday's news was a non-official report that on Tuesday night Ostend was heavily bombarded by the Germans, as many as 5,000 shells being stated to have been hurled into the town.

WEATHER BAD IN ITALY

On the Italian front the weather was also bad, which cut down even the usual routine fighting.

The death of John Redmond, M. P., which occurred yesterday, may, in the present delicate condition of affairs, have an adverse effect on the fortunes of the Irish Nationalist party, particularly if there is any struggle for the leadership in replacement of him.

Whispers are in the air of late that the crisis in the Irish question will come around Easter.

CONSERVE? NOT AT NEWPORT RESTAURANTS

Federal Official Amazed, He Says, After Tour; Owners Blame Reservists

Newport, R. I., March 7.—Newport restaurants are ignoring the regulations of the Federal Food Administration regarding the conservation of food.

This statement was made today by Fred W. Mansfield, chairman of the restaurant and hotel section of the Rhode Island Division of the Federal Food Administration.

He made the statement after a tour of inspection and declared himself amazed at the utter contempt with which the rulings are being treated. Restaurant proprietors, in extenuation, claimed that naval reservists demand restricted articles of diet, and that the sailors believe themselves entitled to the best of food.

The tour was made by Mr. Mansfield accompanied by Messrs. Otto of the Bathskeller and, and Heatrie of the Waldorf restaurants in Providence, who are other member of the committee. Mr. Mansfield is connected with the Crown Hotel at Providence.

The commission chose the noon hour and visited as many places as possible while the rush was on. They found the resturants crowded with reservists. According to Mr. Mansfield one of these men declared that as they were in the government servic they had th right to eat anything they wanted.

Mr. Mansfield replied that when they went into actual service they would receive the best the country could provide, but until that time they would have to conserve.

Among the places running a full menu was the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A., resturant. "Obey or cease doing business," was the order for all.

ASSAILS FOES OF EDUCATION MEASURE

By International News Service.

Mrs. Charles F. Bates, chairman of the legislative department of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, criticised today the action of the legislative Committee on Education in reporting to the House yesterday against the bill for continuation education for children over fourteen years of age.

Mrs. Bates made her comment prior to a meeting of the federation's legislative department at the Hotel Vendome, where various federation committees and departments met today.

Representatives Bartlett of North Attleboro and Monahan of Boston dissented from the unfavorable report.

Mrs. Bates said: "Messrs. Chamberlain and Churchill of the committee had announced themselves as favorable to the measure, but their names did not appear among those favorable to it. Messrs. Moynihan and Bartlett voted for it. We are not surprised at the action of Senator Crosn, chairman of the committee, for we expected nothing from him.

"The continuation schools have worked out splendidly in France and England. So well, in fact, that the age limit has been raised from fourteen to seventeen years, and the appropriations have been doubled.

"We were given to understand that a bill would have taken a large appropriation, and that all funds were needed for furtherance of the war, but France and England are also at war. Their action is a rebuttal in itself to any excuses our State House may have to make. The State Federation of Women's Clubs endorsed and is fighting for the measure."

TRAINING CAMP HEALTH RATE IMPROVES

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7.—Continued improvement in the health of the soldiers in training in the United States is shown by the surgeon-general's report for the week ending March 1, made public today. There was a total of 123 deaths, as against 164 for the previous week. Pneumonia continues to exact the highest toll of deaths.

"The health of troops in the United States continues very good," the report says. "The death rate of 6.6 per 1,000 is the lowest reported since November 16, 1917."

In the National Guard, Camp Bowie at Forth Worth, Tex., continues with the highest sick rate. Pneumonia continues to decline in both the National Army and the National Guard.

The recruit depots in the Regular Army collectively have the highest sick rates for the week of all commands in the Regular Army groups.

ADVISES COUPLE TO GO FAR FROM RELATIVES

Newport, R. I., March 7.—Judge Barrows in Superior Court here denied the petition for divorce of Hazel Gilmore Tripp from Albian R. Tripp, advising the couple to leave Tiverton, where they are living, and stop accepting the advice of relatives.

Mrs. Tripp declared that her husband had failed to support her and that she was forced to take in washing to support herself and child. Two sisters, Mrs. Louise M. Townsend of West Newton, Mass., [illegible]

SUIT AGAINST CITY COLLECTOR [illegible] TAXES

Attorney-General Henry C. Atwill, on behalf of the city of Boston, has brought suit against John J. Curley, collector of the city, for $75,000, and the National Surety Company of New York is also named as defendant. The action is to recover [illegible] city of Boston as taxes for 1914, which it is claimed Mr. Curley failed to collect.

BOARD TO FIX PRICES FOR STEELMAKING

Washington, March 7.—Prices of all materials entering into the manufacture of steel are to be fixed by the war industries board, it was said this afternoon in circles close to the organization. Refractory, brick, crucibles and chrome, and even materials used in the manufacture of blast furnaces are to be included, it was said. The purpose will be to stabilize the price of steel.

CHAPLAIN DAVITT NOW WITH UNIT IN FRANCE

Lenox, March 7.—Rev. W. P. Grace, rector of St. Anne's Church, Lenox, has received a cablegram from Rev. William Davitt, formerly curate at St. Anne's, announcing his safe arrival in France. Father Davitt is a chaplain with the Twentieth Machine Gun Battalion of the Thirty-second Division.

Bars Are Put Up Against Army "Slicker"

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7. — The "slicker"—the youth of draft age who obtains a commission in a "soft" branch of the service—this afternoon was put under the ban of the War Department. Hereafter under provisions of a general order only those men of draft age who possess exceptional qualifications, will be considered for such commissions.

The quartermasters, medical and ordnance corps have been proving an attractive haven for those who desired to escape the rigors of a more active service, but from now on the draft will get 'em.

FOOD ADMINISTRATORS CLOSE BOSTON HOUSE FOR OVERCHARGING

ASKED 11 CENTS FOR SUGAR

The heavy official hand of Federal Food Administrator Hoover was laid, for the first time, on a Massachusetts offender, when the business of the Boston Sugar and Jobbing Company was seized and placed under the supervision of Meyer J. Sawyer.

Technically, Mr. Sawyer was placed in charge of the sugar company's business by Henry B. Endicott, agent for the United States Food Administration, in this State.

Mr. Endicott's action, however, was at the direct command of Mr. Hoover.

The firm has been found guilty of selling sugar "at exorbitant and unreasonable profits," and its license to do business has been revoked.

Just what Mr. Sawyer will do with the firm's stock was not made known, but it is thought that the government will use the supplies for distribution to urgent and needy cases within the Commonwealth.

SOLD SUGAR AT 11 CENTS.

The specific charge against the firm, which does business at No. 76 Fulton street, is that on February 19 it sold fifty-three pounds of sugar at 11 cents a pound, although the maximum price was set at 10 cents per pound.

The firm at first denied the charge, but after consultation with attorneys admitted the sale and claimed "extenuating circumstances."

A statement concerning the seizure of the concern, given out at Mr. Endicott's office in the State House last evening, follows:

On account of selling sugar at exorbitant and unreasonable profits the license of the Boston Sugar and Jobbing Company, No. 76 Fulton street, has been revoked by Herbert Hoover on the recommendation of the State Food Administration. In consequence the firm will, after Thursday, March 7, be perverted from trading in sugar and other food commodities and their affairs have been placed in the hands of Meyer J. Sawyer, appointed by Mr. Endicott, agent for the United States Food Administration in the case.

FIRST CONCERN SEIZED.

This was the first revocation of a license in Massachusetts and brings home to all the drastic power imposed under the food regulations since America entered the war. Other States have exercised the power given them in numerous instances, but Food Administrator Endicott has been reluctant to put any firm out of business unless the violations were deliberate and committed with a full realization of the penalty.

The investigation into the practices of the Boston Sugar and Jobbing Company, who were represented by counsel, has been very thorough, and the charges are that they sold to the individual consumer in amounts larger than is permitted; that their margin of profit was larger than is allowed, and that they failed to keep a proper record of their business.

Before the revocation of their license was decided upon, investigations were made by Professor Paul J. Sachs, head of the Literature division of the State Food Administration; Professor James E. Ropes, and Messrs. Wigglesworth, Putnam and Heard, all of the Food Administration.

Evidence was produced to prove that the men, among other things, had sold fifty-three pounds of sugar on February 19 for which they received eleven cents per pound, although when the company was accused of this they at first denied it, but later, after consultation with counsel, admitted the sale and claimed extenuating circumstances.

MAY SEND P. O. ORDERS TO ENEMY PRISONERS

Washington, March 7.—Money orders may be sent from the United States to prisoners of war held by the allies. This was made plain today when the Postoffice Department instructed postmasters that such prisoners are not "enemy subjects" so far as the postal regulations are concerned. Recently the department cautioned postmasters to exercise caution when issuing money orders, to prevent them falling into the hands of the enemy. The order was misinterpreted by many postmaster, who refused to accept orders for prisoners of war on the ground that they were "enemy subjects."

M. C. SOUTHWORTH OF ROCKTON A SUICIDE

Brockton, March 7.—Marcus C. Southworth, formerly the largest milk producer in this section of the State, committed suicide today by hanging. His body was found suspended from a beam in the loft of his barn at No. 864 West Chestnut street. He had been in poor health. He leaves a widow and a son. Mr. Southworth, who was 61 years of age, was formerly owner of the Southworth Dairy Farm. His milk herd consisted of 100 cows. A short time ago he sold his milk route.

POLICE ASKED TO FIND WEST ROXBURY WOMAN

The police have been asked to find Mrs. Mary Malouf, 38 years old, of No. 61 Cawing street, West Roxbury, who disappeared from her home during the storm of Monday night. Her absence was not noted until later in the evening and then her husband started a search for her, but without avail. The couple have four children. Mrs. Malouf had been suffering from rheumatism and was worrying over it, the police say.

Vice-President Marshall Praises French Home Rebuilding

SAYS MR. HEARST'S PLAN TO RESTORE DEVASTATED VILLAGES "IS A BEAUTIFUL THOUGHT"

THOMAS R. MARSHALL
VICE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES
©INTERNATIONAL.

THE VICE-PRESIDENT'S CHAMBER
THE CAPITOL, WASHINGTON.

It is a beautiful thought—the desire to rehabilitate the stricken and razed villages of France.

It will be ocular proof that we fight a good fight for freedom, for, like the returned exiles to Jerusalem, we fight with the sword in one hand and the trowel in the other. While we wage war against injustice, we spread the cement of brotherly love and kindness in rebuilding homes where liberty may again find a local habitation.

I cannot too highly commend Mr. Hearst and his papers in the zealous and unflagging advocacy of this most Christian work.

RAID GOLDSOL'S OFFICE; SEIZES PAPERS

Raid Follows Charges of Larceny From the French Government

By International News Service.

New York, March 7.—A raid has been made on the offices of the Alliance Motors Corporation at No. 8 West Fortieth street, of which Frank J. Goldsol, who was arrested in Washington for alleged larceny from the French government, is the principal owner.

All the books and papers of the corporation were seized and taken away for examination, it was learned today, under the direction of Deputy Attorney-General Alfred H. Becker.

He stated that the raid was the result of a month's investigation requested by French Ambassador Jusserand.

Becker further stated that Goldsol had purchased $8,000,000 worth of United States Liberty bonds and had sold $2,000,000 worth of them in three weeks in lots of $100,000 each. The result was a severe depression in the price of the bonds.

The books and papers seized in the raid formed such a bulk that they filled a large van and a taxi. The documents and books will be subjected to the most searching examination and whatever of interest to the French government may be found in them, if any, will be turned over to French officials, Mr. Becker stated.

Mr. Becker made it clear that his office is not contemplating any prosecution of Goldsol, but is conducting an investigation in conformity with Ambassador Jusserand's request. Already much that has been discovered by his investigation is in the hands of French officials.

Goldsol, it was declared, was born in Cleveland of Russian parents. He secured a Supreme Court order changing his surname from Goldsoll, but is still known as Goldsoll in France.

Mr. Becker stated he had information that if Goldsol returns to France he will probably face a charge of receiving commissions while serving in an official capacity for the French government, contrary to French law. Goldsol's commissions were declared to have varied from 7 to 20 per cent. for the sale of motor trucks to France for army use.

An additional charge will probably be made in France

MRS. HARRIET C. BLAKE, 92, DEAD IN WOBURN

Mrs. Harriet C. Blake, ninety-two years of age, is dead at her home in Woburn. She was born in Burlington, April 12, 1826. The family later moved to North Woburn and afterward to Woburn. She was married to Eben N. Blake in 1846. Four children survive, Mrs. Emma L. Parker, Dr. Harrison G. Blake, Warren N. Blake of Woburn and Mrs. H. C. Pingree of Brookline.

Hungriest Belgian Stole 10 Tons of Wheat

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7.—Assistant Secretary of Labor Louis F. Post announced today he had discovered the hungriest man in Belgium. He is Charles Van Lens, aged thirty-nine, of Antwerp. The Van Lens family, consisting of a wife and three children, must have appetites as good as Charles, the assistant secretary believes, for Van Lens admits to have stolen a little trifle of ten tons of wheat before he left Belgium. The labor department first considered adding Mr. Van Lens to Mr. Hoover's staff to be detailed to field work in Germany, though it was thought the Kaiser might not be so lenient with him, as he only got eighteen months in Belgium. Since coming to the United States in August, 1917, Van Lens has proved his versatility by amazing dexterity sawn into the country. Assistant Secretary Post has ordered Van Lens deported after a trial, and the serving of a sentence if found guilty.

PRAISES MORAL ATMOSPHERE AT DEVENS

Camp Better for Young Men Than Towns and Cities, Says Prof. Wright

Professor Henry B. Wright of Boston, who has been visiting and studying conditions at Camp Devens, pronounces that camp one of the best moral training places for young men.

He says it is a better place for a young man today than the towns and cities of New England, and in the following statement published in the current number of "The Congregationalist," gives his reasons for the moral uplift at Ayer. He says:

MORAL DANGER LACKING.

"Why do I prefer the environment of Camp Devens for my sons to the New England county town? Because the stars and the stripes are there and the stumps are there, and the necessity of daily struggling with a stubborn, unyielding soil, but not the moral and spiritual dangers attendant upon agitation. Here one finds the stimulus of the struggle with nature plus the constant fellowship and inspiration of large bodies of able, good men, which even the best small town can furnish only sporadically.

"Why do I prefer the same environment to a modern industrial city? Because the well-paved streets and electric lights and autos and movies and theatres are there, but you can walk from one end to the other of the vast city of 4,000 without being a single saloon or the commercializing of the sex-impulse for advertising purposes.

"And why do I, a teacher, prefer this same environment at this hour for my boys to a college campus? Because the equivalents of fraternity and chum and athletic team and glee club and college journal and Y. M. C. A. are there, but each is in its proper relation to the main show, losing their tempers and objectives and snap courses have entirely disappeared.

LIKES NEW OFFICERS.

"There is another element that enters into the questions and that is the leadership of the place. A few days ago I came into the camp in the early morning in company with a carpenter whom I had never seen before. We engaged in conversation. I hope when this war is over the United States will have compulsory military training for young men," he began. "Why?" I queried. "Well," he replied, "I have three boys and I would give anything if I could get them under these officers in the New Army.

"They could do for my boys what I can never do for them. I served in the old army and I know what I'm talking about. I work all day from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the midst of these officers as they train their men. They don't know I'm listening but I am. They make their men mind, but they do it without profanity or smut or losing their tempers.

5,000,000 Children Sought for "U. S. Garden Army"

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7.—The United States is to raise a new army of 5,000,000. Secretary of the Interior Lane is to be its generalissimo. Its members are to be five million school children throughout the United States.

Secretary Lane announced the details of the full scheme of organization which this Summer is to make every vacant lot a productive spot under the hands of the children. Everyone from President Wilson down has pledged his aid. Cardinal Gibbons has pledged the aid of the parochial schools and Secretary Houston that of the schools in the rural districts.

The name of the new army will be the "United States Garden Army," and each member will wear a badge and such marks as he or she may earn. Each home with a child in the garden army will fly a distinctive service flag telling of it.

COUNT'S $26400 GAMING LOSS MERE DOT

Russian Thinks the Limit in New York Clubs Is Rather Small

By International News Service.

New York, March 7.—The loss of $20,000 (or $26,400, the difference being a mere bagatelle) seemed to appear to "Count" Nicholas Iaffigini, formerly of Russia, as of too little moment to warrant the fuss made over the incident by Assistant District Attorney Smith in the John Doe gambling probe.

The "Count" readily admitted that he had lost such a sum at the Olympic Club, while playing there on January 15.

"Yes, I lost it. What of it?" said he, when questioned.

"Count" Iaffigini has but recently recovered from a gunshot wound, self-inflicted, in his apartment. He was smiling and urbane when he appeared first before the Assistant District Attorney and later before Judge Wadhams.

Just before the "Count" took the stand before Judge Wadhams, George Y. Bauchle, president of the Partridge Club was held in $1,000 bail for trial in Special Sessions on charge of maintaining a gambling house.

The "Count" appeared rather bored with the proceedings.

"I do not consider the limit of $25 for which I have played here, to be at all high," he remarked. "Often I have played for much higher stakes in Petrograd."

He testified having met Bauchle at the Hotel Imperial, where he had been playing "chemin de fer," and had been invited to join the Partridge club.

The witness said he had won $1,800 and $2,800 at the Partridge Club, but had lost $26,400 at the Olympic Club at the Ritz Carlton. He said he believed he had paid that loss by check to a man named Slaughnessy.

Others who are to testify in the gambling probe are Law Fields and George Helmerdinger.

OPEN HEARING AT SALEM FOR HARRINGTON

Ex-Mayor Benson Tells of Bills in Suit Against Former Police Chief

The hearing on charges against ex-City Marshal Cornelius F. Harrington of Salem by Mayor Dennis J. Sullivan opened in the Council Chamber of that city today.

The first witness was former Mayor Henry P. Benson, who testified that he had been informed by the then City Solicitor, William Chapple, that Marshal Harrington was justified in engaging counsel in a law suit.

Over the charges against Harrington was that he engaged counsel, for whose services the city paid, in the suit brought against him by Patrolman Daniel J. Ayers. Ayers was suspended by Harrington for going over the latter's head and prosecuting a liquor case. Judge Charles M. Bruce of Malden today gave a decision that this suspension was without cause. The decision will be used as evidence in the hearing at Salem.

CALLED FOR HEARING.

Nearly all the city councillors were present at the opening of the hearing, with Mayor Sullivan, City Solicitor M. L. Sullivan, ex-Marshal Harrington, ex-Mayor Benson, his counsel, City Marshal James Dooley and several other witnesses.

President Cheriault of the council, the presiding officer, announced that no personalities would be permitted. On a suggestion by Councillor Doyle, it was voted that the city solicitor be empowered to conduct the hearing.

When Mayor Sullivan was inaugurated January 7th he appointed James Dooley as marshal. This appointment was confirmed by the council, and automatically ousted Harrington. The latter, however, claimed that he was still the city marshal, as he charged that he had been improperly removed.

Mayor Sullivan then called a special meeting of the council, at which he preferred charges against Harrington to the effect that he had engaged lawyers at the city's expense in a personal suit, that he failed to prosecute liquor cases and that he was negligent in following up a local shooting affair. The council then unanimously voted to remove Harrington and set a date for a hearing.

APPROVED PAYMENT OF BILLS.

Ex-Mayor Benson was asked about two bills for counsel hire which Harrington presented for payment. Mr. Benson said that Harrington brought in the bills a month before the mayor left office.

At first, he stated, he refused to O. K. them. Later he conferred with William Chapple, who was then city solicitor. Chapple told him, he said, that in the absence of the city solicitor the municipal law justified in engaging other counsel to represent him in the suit brought by Patrolman Ayers, and Mr. Benson testified that he ordered the bills paid as a result.

ASK FEDERAL MEDIATOR TO END ST. LOUIS STRIKE

St. Louis, March 7. — Representatives of the 2,500 strikers of the Wagner Electric Company engaged in government work here appealed today to James O'Connell of the American Federation of Labor to have a Federal mediator sent here to end the strike. Federal control of the company's plans here as the result of strike loomed as a possibility today. Strikers formulated new demands last night. They include an eight-hour day, 50 per cent. increase in wages and recognition of the union. Unconfirmed reports were current today that the government army will arrive here in a few days to guard the plants if there is a permanent tie-up.

3 CERTIFY FOR POLICE CHIEF OF CAMBRIDGE

Three of the four Cambridge police captains who took the civil service examination for chief have certified $960.000. He said that within the past sixteen months Boston girl workers had received an increase on their maximum wage of $3 1-2 per week, with 25 per cent for girls outside Boston, that increase from $12 up to $16 for the Boston girls and up to $15 for those outside. He went on:

"The company has always dealt fairly. It has never had an actual strike, although strikes have been threatened. It always stands ready to submit differences to fair and independent judgment."

FOUNTAIN PEN THIEF ENTERS TWO STORES

The fountain pen thief, under cover for over a year, is at work again. Two breaks in stationers' stores downtown were reported to the police of the Court square station today. Only fountain and stylographic pens were taken.

The first break reported was in the store of the F. W. Barry Beals Co. at No. 108 Washington and No. 45 Elm street. Here entrance to the store of $423 was taken. At the store of J. Fairbrother & Co., No. 19 Franklin street, pens to the value of $335 were taken.

SIX TIMES WED, DIES AT HOME OF FIANCEE NO. 7

Shreveport, La., March 7.—Dave Reniff, a locomotive engineer, six times married, died here at the home of his fiancee, having been stricken with acute indigestion while visiting his intended seventh bride. As the body law in state at a local undertaking establishment, two former wives, divorced, stood at either end of the specially built coffin — Reniff was seven feet tall—and wept.

'PHONE GIRLS WIN INCREASE IN WAGES

Operators and Officials of the Company Reach an Agreement

The telephone girls have won their demands for an increase in wages, and there will be no walkout of the more than 4,000 operators tomorrow morning.

The dispute was settled by Henry B. Endicott, executive manager of the Massachusetts Public Safety Committee, who was called into the dispute by the War Department, through Adjutant-General Stevens.

The girls in fourteen of the big New England cities outside of Boston get $16 a week as a maximum wage, the same as the operatives in the Boston metropolitan district exchanges.

RECEIVE ADVANCES.

The operatives in the smaller New England cities, particularly those in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Maine, receive advances.

The news of Mr. Endicott's appointment as War Department mediator, came as a surprise, although both the girls and the company had indicated that he would be acceptable to them as an arbiter. But that was previous to any appearance of the Federal authorities in the case.

Representatives of twenty-two men's locals, affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, met at a down-town Boston hotel to take action on the question of endorsing the girls' operators' strike. Charles H. Delaney of Lowell, chairman of the local committees, presided.

MORE STRIKE VOTES.

The girls announced yesterday additional strike votes by girls of Framingham, Milford, Natick and Lawrence exchanges. These accessions to the movement for a strike at 7 a. m. Friday greatly encouraged the girls.

Representatives of the girls and of the company conferred with the State Board of Arbitration at 10.30 in the morning. The girls emphasized the point that the extra dollar they demanded was not so much for the sake of the dollar as to prevent discrimination against the girls of outside exchanged, in comparison with the girls in Boston exchanges.

THOSE AT CONFERENCE.

Those present at the conference before the arbitration board included:

The State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, Willard Howland, chairman; Walter J. Mullins and Charles H. Wood.

Members of Joint Council of Girl Operators—Miss Helena Smith of New Bedford, chairman; Miss Helen Moran of Lowell, secretary; Miss Louise Foss of Pittsfield, Miss Alice Callahan of Fitchburg, Miss Mary Quinn of Springfield and Miss Mary Soulley.

For the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company—Vice President M. H. Jones and Counsel Samuel J. Powers.

Miss Julia S. O'Connor, vice-president of the Boston telephone girls' union, and Miss Agnes Rice, president of the Framingham local, which had just voted to join the strike if called, were also present.

The session before the arbitration board was mainly a wage discussion, despite the insistence of the girls' representatives that the issue was not one of wages but of discrimination against the "outside of Boston" operators.

WANTED EQUAL WAGE.

Chairman Howland endeavored to have the question of a just wage eliminated, but the girls refused to admit that as the real cause. The girls objected vigorously to the dollar differential between Boston and "outside" maximum wages.

Mr. Jones, for the company, maintained that this differential was just on three grounds:

1.—More costly living conditions in Boston.

2.—More difficult Boston work.

3. Inability of the company to extend the $16 scale throughout New England.

Mr. Jones declared that increases granted by the company would amount to a payroll increase for 1918 of

WOULD MAKE OFFICERS OF TOWN LIABLE FOR BILLS

Milford, March 7.—Police and school officials are severely scored by the finance committee in its annual report which will be submitted to the town meeting. The annual town meeting Friday evening and it is hinted that the commission will seek to make the bonds of constables liable for unpaid bills in several departments. The commission asserts that "to recommend to voters to pay these unpaid bills, contracted against their expressed instructions, would swiftly entirely the power of the taxpayers with the use of their money and make chaty control over town departments."

TOURS MARINE CORPS RECRUITING STATIONS

Colonel C. B. Hatch, officer in charge of the Eastern District, is inspecting the Marine Corps recruiting stations in New England. He will spend a short time in Boston in conference with Captain H. C. Daniels of the local recruiting station on Tremont row. The uniform of the marine recruiting force will be changed to blue and a new insignia will be introduced.

ending of transfers to the people of West Somerville which forces them into the already overcrowded Harvard Square station.

That the limited step cars to Arlington be taken out of the subway and run on the surface.

IN FIGHT TO THE FINISH.

The fight is being led by Councillor Charles R. Apted, and he declares that it will not be finished until the Elevated road begins to put into operation the improvements demanded by the citizens.

"The Harvard Square station is being made a dumping ground by the Elevated Railway for the people of various sections for whom it was never built to be used. The consequence is a dangerous overcrowding of the subway daily that offers a menace to human life," Councillor Apted declared.

"I do not like to be critical of the Elevated Railway, but when people beg you to do something, saying they have had to wait half an hour in the subway to get a car home, and when any man can see for himself that the sort of service the road is giving results in a dangerous overcrowding every day of the Harvard Square station, then I think the time has come to act.

"Three or four thousand people are crowded onto a narrow platform which at most was intended to hold only 1,500. This happens every night during the rush hour, when the people of North Cambridge, Arlington and the Huron avenue district leave the Cambridge subway cars to take surface cars to their homes.

ELEVATED CALLS SERVICE GOOD.

"For four years I have been seeking to get improvements in service in Cambridge, especially for the North Cambridge people, who are the chief sufferers. The Elevated officials told me that there were plenty of cars to take away all the people and no improvement was made.

"There are not plenty of cars and the loading platform, as a matter of fact, is altogether too small. The road ought at once to break through the wall and extend the loading platform so that we could get six cars in. Now there is room for four.

"But the people could get some relief from the present dangerous conditions by having the road run on the surface all limited stop cars to Arlington from the Elliot street carbarn through Brattle street to Harvard square and Massachusetts avenue, and by running on the surface the Belmont and Waverly cars by way of Harvard square and then returning by way of Massachusetts avenue to the entrances of the subway at Cambridge street.

TO HOLD A MASS MEETING.

"The people of Cambridge have suffered so long that we intend this time that something shall be done. Next week there will be a public hearing in City Hall, of which the people will be given due notice, and we intend to carry the fight to the Public Service Commission to get what the people of this section demand in the way of better service."

A reporter of the Boston AMERICAN went with Councillor Apted to the Harvard square station and remained during the rush hour. In the pell mell dash down the incline after leaving subway trains scores of people were pushed and jostled about, and women with children sought safety for themselves and their helpless infants close to the walls.

In 19 minutes from 5.29 to 5.39, 19 subway trains came in and discharged crowds. In that same time only five cars of the trailer type entered the station to take these crowds away. Not only did the people fill every inch of the loading platform, but they were pushed back for some distance up the incline.

In the scramble to board cars the old joined with the young, and women with men. One woman gave up after trying twice to board a car and retreated close to the wall to wait until most of the people were taken away. She had a long wait.

RED CROSS SILVER SALE ALREADY TOTALS $1,400

More than $1,400 already has been realized for the Red Cross Silver Thimble Fund at the store, No. 116 Boylston street, by the sale of silver and gold articles, plated goods, rings and other jewelry contributed to the fund by Greater Boston people. This is for the first three days of the sale, which opened on Monday and will continue until March 11. More than 8,000 articles have been contributed to the fund, and those which have not been placed on sale will be melted down for the silver they contain.

FUEL CONSERVATOR THANKS AMERICAN FOR AID

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Now that the fuel conservation rules have been withdrawn, I take the pleasure of availing myself of the opportunity to thanking you and your paper for the most valuable co-operation and assistance rendered to the conservation department of the Boston Fuel Committee through the publicity given in your columns to the Fuel Committee, and especially to the conservation department.

Without the assistance of the press the efficiency which this department has been able to attain would have been very much less and the opportunities thus given to the public to understand the rules and co-operate in enforcing them would have been very much restricted. Yours very truly,

Chairman Conservation Department, Boston Fuel Committee.

HEAVY PENALTY FOR STRIKERS PROVIDED

House Bill Provides Severe Fine and Imprisonment for "Conspirators"

Washington, March 7.—A powerful weapon against strikes fostered by disloyal forces was given to the administration when the House passed unanimously a bill defining such strikes as conspiracies and providing a punishment of thirty years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

The measure came near being amended so as to prohibit all strikes. Representative Cannon of Illinois backed this attempt. Only the most determined fighting by the so-called labor group defeated it.

Strikes are defined, in the final measure, as conspiracies when they unfavorably affect war operations and can be shown to be undertaken with the purpose of obstructing the military success of the war. It was an administration measure.

HEATED DEBATE.

Debate was hot and furious.

"The gentleman from Illinois is trying to cut off the right of every workingman to better his condition," said Representative Keating of Colorado, author of the child labor bill, referring to Cannon's attempted amendment forbidding all strikes. "His talk of curbing the I. W. W. is camouflage."

"I accept that challenge," shouted Cannon. "I would control everybody, no matter who he is, who would disable us in our support of the boys who face the shells and gas."

The aged Illinois member waved his arms in old-time style. Cries of support came from all parts of the hall. He continued:

"War is no time for strikes. Can the boys in the trenches strike for higher wages, better conditions and for any reason? The farmer, the worker, anyone who obstructs this war, I would put under this bill."

Representative Nolan of California, chairman of the Labor Committee, arose.

FAVORS MODERATE BILL.

"A bill of this sort, moderate in character," he said, "will do much good. But to approve this proposal would do more to arouse ill-feeling and suspicion and to destroy the present plans of labor's co-operation in this war than any other step we could take."

"But we shouldn't strike at all in war time," cried Cannon. Again there was applause.

After Representative London of New York, Socialist, had attempted to block the bill by raising a point of no quorum, Representative Morgan of Oklahoma said he did not think that war should stop the right of a laborer to fight for better working conditions.

ABOUSES OPPOSITION.

"Do you favor letting the soldiers, who depend on the war supplies we send them, strike when they see fit?" asked Representative Fordney of Michigan.

"We are not concerned with the boys in the trenches now," replied Morgan. "There were hosts and cries of 'Aren't we?' from all over the House. Morgan explained that he meant the bill did not affect them.

Representative Lunn's amendment, validating strikes for "bona fide attempts to better conditions or wages," was adopted after Lunn had declared the American workingman would sacrifice anything for the war, but nothing for the profiteering at his expense. The vote was 275 to 45.

Admirals' Names Are Given to 4 New Destroyers

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7. — The names of four American naval heroes, all rear admirals, have been given to new United States destroyers, the Navy Department announced today. The additions to the navy will be known as the Radford, the Boggs, the Montgomery and the Kilty.

Rear Admiral Radford commanded the Cumberland when that vessel was sunk by the Confederate ironclad Merrimac at Hampton Roads; Rear Admiral Charles S. Boggs was in command of the Varuna, the only one of Farragut's flotilla lost in the battle of New Orleans; Rear Admiral John Herrier Montgomery commanded several squadrons and important naval stations, and Rear Admiral A. H. Kilty engaged in the organization and operation of the western flotilla under Admiral Farragut.

HUDSON, N. H., FAMILY DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE

Nashua, N. H., March 7.—The farm house of J. W. Leazott, a Nashua plumber, on the Pelham road in Hudson, was destroyed by fire early today. The family of nine, Mr. and Mrs. Leazott, their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Dement, and six children, escaped in their night clothes. There were 17 bushels of seed potatoes in the cellar and much canned goods and vegetables. The loss is $2,000, insured for $1,300. The fire caught from the stove where Mr. Leazott had just started a fire.

WOMEN'S VOTE A BLOW TO ANTIS

Cuffragists Prove They Can Use the Ballot With Intelligence

By ELIZABETH ELLAM.

Women of two States of the United States have now cast their ballots for the first time, and suffragists of neighboring States who are envious of the privilege are at the same time proud of the manner in which their sex has acquitted itself.

For the women, in the manner that they voted and in the numbers in which they turned out at the polls, have cleared themselves of several of the charges that were laid at their doors by the "Antis."

Great was the joy at suffrage headquarters at No. 585 Boylston street, after a perusal of the New York papers and a reading of the news from Vermont. One more election has gone into history, and the women of those two States stand on the same platform, shoulder to shoulder, with their menfolk.

"Suffragists in Vermont cast between 80 and 85 per cent. of their vote, or just about the same proportion as the men," said a suffrage leader who has watched bulletin boards and reports of election news, carefully. "In this way women voters have refuted two entirely contradictory statements that Anti-suffragists have loved to make.

"The first was that 'Women will not vote.'

"The second—and note the difference—was 'Women will all vote and will double the vote.'

VOTE WITH INTELLIGENCE.

"In the first place, they did vote, and in the second place, they did not double the vote. They voted with intelligence and they voted well. They equalled just about the numbers of the men who voted.

"In New York they cast about 41 per cent. of the entire vote, and 94 per cent. of the women registered voted. As a matter of record, the number of women who voted were 21,858, and the number of men, 78,192.

"Whole families went to the polls in New York, all voting at the same time. One grandson trundled his great-grandmother to the polls, and at the venerable age of 102 years she cast her first vote. It was no uncommon sight to see a man wheeling a baby carriage while his wife walked at his side, going to the polls with him to vote.

"There was another unusual side to the first voting in these two States, and that was the unusual intelligence that the women displayed. It was said in New York that they marked their ballots with greater celerity than did the men and with equal accuracy. They made none of the awkward mistakes that were predicted for them by their friends who were not in sympathy with the movement.

"Haven't you heard it claimed time and time again, by the Antis, that women would greatly hamper the machinery of the elections, because they would vote so unintelligently? I have, and it proved just to the contrary.

TAKE KEEN INTEREST.

"Of course, some of that can be traced to the fact that women have taken such a keen interest in election matters that they have prepared themselves for the new work they have in hand. The result in really the outcome of the campaign of education that the Suffragists have waged, in teaching women how to use the ballot, when they got it."

CANADIAN TO SPEAK AT RED CROSS FLOWER SHOW

Sergeant P. H. Pheeney of the Twenty-fourth Canadians, who fought at Vimy Ridge and has twice been wounded, will be the speaker at the Acacia Tea Garden, at the Red Cross Flower Show, in Horticultural Hall, on the opening afternoon, next Wednesday. Sergeant Pheeney will speak in place of Arthur Fairbrother, previously announced, who has been called West and will be unable to return in time for the flower show.

Sergeant Pheeney will describe the battle of Vimy Ridge. Miss Marion Sprague, the daughter of Mrs. E. D. Brandegee, will present two groups of songs, in French and English.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a scalding sensation, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

ARMY ROMANCE TOLD BY SCHOOL GIRL BRIDE

Mrs. Melvin A. Patterson Wedded Last August to Sergeant, Secret Just Out

Mrs. Mehitable Knights Patterson, schoolgirl bride of Sergeant Melvin A. Patterson of the 6th Regiment, told today the story of her secret marriage on August 22.

Miss Knights, as she was before marriage, is the nineteen-year daughter of Mrs. W. B. Knights of No. 10 Common street, Charlestown. She was preparing last August to enter the senior class at the Girls' Latin School. Also she was the sweetheart of Sergeant Patterson of the 6th.

On the 22rd of last August Sergeant Patterson was returning to camp at Framingham for duty. Telling the marriage story, the bride said:

"I started out to see Melvin off to camp. On the way we met Chaplain Lyman Rollins of the 6th, who is now with the 101st Infantry in France.

"Melvin suddenly said to me: 'Let's get married!' Then he told me that he had taken out a license some time before, but had said nothing to me about it. He urged me to marry him right away. So the chaplain took us to St. Paul's Cathedral. It was just before the noon-day service. There were about 200 worshippers in the church. We were married in their presence.

"Melvin went to camp, and I returned home, saying nothing about my marriage in order that I might keep on in school."

In November Sergeant Patterson received his discharge from the service on account of his heart. He is now in the office of a coffee firm on Milk street.

The story of the secret bridal has just become known. The bride has left school and, with her husband, is living for the present at her mother's home.

Sergeant Patterson is the son of Patrolman John Patterson of the Boston Police Department, who is attached to the Hanover street station.

Life Underwriting Total More Than $12,000,000,000

By International News Service

Washington, March 7.—The life underwriting section of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance has grown to be the largest life insurance company in the world. More than $12,000,000,000 has already been written on the lives of American soldiers, sailors and nurses, and at the close of business yesterday 1,292,324 applications, representing insurance of $11,554,448,500, had been received at the bureau.

Secretary McAdoo announced today that late reports from the American expeditionary force, together with insurance now in transit from distant points, indicate that the total is well above $12,000,000,000, covering more than 1,500,000 in the military or naval service. The average amount applied for is $9,095.

HOG ISLAND SHIPYARD INQUIRY POSTPONED

Washington, March 7.—Investigation into the Hog Island shipyard was halted today. At the request of the officials of the American International Corporation the probe by the Senate Commerce Committee of charges of extravagance and waste of the government funds was postponed until Tuesday.

George D. Baldwin, vice-president of the American International Corporation, explained that keeping "the best men of the concern in Washington is taking their minds from shipbuilding." He asked that several days' interval be given in order that the officers of the corporation might return to Philadelphia and Hog Island and "pick up the loose ends."

CRAZED BY GINGER, MAN SHOOTS UP TOWN

Okmulgee, Okla., March 7.—Crazed by drinking jamaica ginger, Clyde Siyer, a teamster, was arrested by a posse during the night after he had ridden horseback through the streets, firing at houses and passersby with pistols. A negro was shot through the head and instantly killed.

U. S. BOYS LIKE 'LONG BOY' FOR 'PEP'

Popular and Zippy War Song Whistled and Sung at Army Camp

When it comes to music an American soldier or sailor wants something with nip to it—something with swing to it—something he can whistle. Back in 1898 Spaniards and Cubans alike were quite positive that the National anthem was a march song the words of which predicted that there'll be a hot time in the old town tonight.

American boys haven't changed much. In all the great cantonments at home and wherever (back of the lines) they may be gathered abroad, lively youngsters will be singing or humming or whistling songs like "Over There" or "Long Boy."

"Long Boy" is a product of the present war. It is distinctively American with Missouri seasoning. The words go like this:

LONG BOY!

He was just a long, lean country gink
From 'way out West where the hop-toads wink.
He was six feet two in his stockin' feet,
An' kept gittin' thinner th' more he'd eat.
But he was as brave as he was thin,
When the war broke out in got right in.
I hitched his plow, put th' mule away,
Then th' old folks heard him say:

CHORUS.

Good-bye, Maw! Good-bye, Paw!
Good-bye, Mule, with per old hee haw!
I may not know what th' war's about,
But you bet, by gosh, I'll soon find out;
An' oh! my sweetheart, don't you fear,
I'll bring you a King for a souvenir,
I'll get you a Turk an' a Kaiser, too,
And that's about all one feller could do.

There are thirty-nine of these songs in the selection of War Songs, 1918 edition, which will be distributed free with next Sunday's Boston Sunday ADVERTISER-AMERICAN. Place an order for the paper today and when Sunday comes sing the songs American soldiers and sailors are singing.

S. Richard Fuller Continues to Give Interesting War Lecture for Women of France

Mrs. Eleanor Wood Whitman, who wrote "Isaiah," and who took the leading part when given recently for the benefit of the Elizabeth Peabody House.

By KATHARINE ALDEN

Miss Rose Saltonstall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Saltonstall of Intervale, Hyde Park, who has devoted all her time to Red Cross work, sailed for France with a group of sister debutantes three weeks ago to engage in relief work in that country. Miss Eleanor Saltonstall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Middlecott Saltonstall of No. 99 Bay State road, a cousin of Miss Rose Saltonstall, went to France in November for Red Cross work.

S. Richard Fuller of No. 405 Beacon street is continuing his weekly lectures in Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Atherton (E. Maud Tilton) of Boston opened their home, No. 1149 Sixteenth street, their Washington home, for Mr. Fuller's lecture, and this Saturday night Miss Martha Codman of Boston is opening her Washington home, No. 2143 Decatur place, to Mr. Fuller for his lecture on "France Before the War." Mr. Fuller has persistently given his services to raise funds in aid of the women of France who were driven from their homes by the war. They have received nearly $30,000 from him.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller are in Washington, D. C., for the winter. Mrs. Fuller was formerly Miss Lucy Derby, daughter of Mrs. Hasket Derby of No. 13 Hereford street and the late Dr. Hasket Derby.

MEATLESS DAYS NOW CUT TO ONE A WEEK

Food Administrator Henry B. Endicott announces that henceforth and until another change is ordered, meat is prohibited but one day a week.

Further than that, the public is given its choice as between Tuesday and Friday.

Nothing was said as to how the restaurants would endeavor to enforce a meatless day.

BLOW ON JAW KILLS CAMP MEADE SOLDIER

Camp Meade, Md., March 7.—Victor J. Dewess of the twenty-sixth company of the 154th Depot Brigade was killed almost instantly in a boxing match here with Charles F. Swann, a member of the same company. Only one blow, a right hook to the jaw was struck in the bout, which was a friendly one. The men were heavyweights.

BEER WORTH $14,352 SEIZED AND EMPTIED

Wichita, Kas., March 7.—Two hundred and twenty-nine cases, or 7,176 bottles, of beer, valued at $14,352, seized in different raids on bootleggers by the police, were broken and their contents thrown into the Arkansas River here today by the police. Beer is sold here for $2 a bottle.

MANY MINISTERS ARE SERVING IN THE WAR

More than 200 Congregational ministers are in war service either as fighters, chaplain, lecturers or Y. M. C. A. secretaries. There are 650 Episcopal ministers in war service of some type, 1,949 Methodist ministers and 987 Baptist ministers.

ASK BOSTON COLLEGE GIRLS TO JOIN NURSES

More than 5,000 college women in and near Boston have been asked to attend a mass meeting in the auditorium of the State House, Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock, by Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, chairman of the Women's Committee, Massachusetts Division of the Council of National Defence. The meeting is planned to consider the country's urgent need of trained women in the field of nursing.

Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the Federal Children's Bureau, will appeal to the college women to join the training camp for nurses to be held at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., this Summer.

SEEKS TO DIVORCE AN ALLEGED FORGER

Portland, Me., March 7.—Chief of Police Daniel L. Bowen testified in the Superior Court that Julius Strumph of New York, from whom Mrs. Anna Strumph of this city is seeking a divorce for desertion, is sought on a forgery charge by the Pinkerton Detective Agency.

Mrs. Strumph testified that her husband had committed three forgeries and had served time for two in Winnipeg, Canada, and in New Jersey, and that now he was wanted for similar offense in Syracuse, N. Y. She said he was arrested under the name of George Breen in New York and attempted suicide by poison. The Strumphs were married in 1907 and have two children.

QUICK AND ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

Nash Trucks—Your Private Transportation System

In these days of unavoidable traffic delays, the advantages to any business operating its own private transportation system of Nash trucks are obvious.

Hauling loads between cities, and in greatly extended fields of operation within the city itself, Nash trucks can make you independent of railroad delays.

Nash trucks are exceptionally suited to this new truck service. Powerful, dependable and economical, they prove themselves not only practicable but profitable for both long and short haul work.

A feature of Nash trucks which owners are quick to appreciate is the automatic locking differential. On the straightaway, if one driving wheel momentarily loses traction, its mate gets practically all the power and pulls the truck ahead. So Nash trucks are enabled to get through where other trucks without this important feature cannot go.

A Nash transportation expert will explain how Nash trucks can best serve you.

INJUNCTION IN ALIENATION CASE ASKED

Hoboken Banker Seeks to Prevent Wife Suing Other Woman

By International News Service.

New York, March 7.—Letters telling of the loss of a husband to the affections of another woman were introduced in the suit by George W. Butts, vice-president of the Hudson Trust Company of Hoboken, for an injunction to restrain his wife from suing for $100,000 damages against Mrs. Minnie A. Braxmer and her daughter, Miss Bessie Braxmer.

Mrs. Butts charges that Mrs. and Miss Braxmer conspired to have Mr. Butts turn his affections to Miss Braxmer, and Butts maintains his wife's suit is in violation of a separation agreement entered into on January 31, 1916, when he gave his wife $50,000. His wife, he declares, signed a release, freeing him from all other claims for support, and gave her promise henceforth not to molest him.

Mrs. Butts, according to her husband, wrote letters to directors of the bank in an effort to discredit him. In one letter she is alleged to have asked one of the directors to save her husband from "his alliance with the adventuresses."

"My life," Mrs. Butts wrote in March, 1916, to a friend, "has been ruined. I have been robbed of my husband and forced to live in a small apartment because of the action of a woman whom I thought my best friend and my sole confidant. On November 6 my husband asked me to give him up.

"I cried and he kissed me. We made up. My experiences have caused me to wonder why I haven't gone insane. They advised me to go to Reno and get a divorce. But I still love my husband and my heart is breaking."

Following the completion of Butts' case, attorneys for Mrs. Butts moved that the application for the injunction be denied and the court overruled.

R. I. LOBBYISTS ARE SHORN OF THEIR POWER

Providence, March 7.—The enforcement of "Rule 18" in the House of Representatives, which holds members in the chamber during the taking of votes on important measures, is said to have "staggered" lobbyists, who only recently called members from the chamber when they desired to engage going on record.

Minority Leader Daniel J. Geary charged members with "ducking their responsibilities" on measures he said were of interest to the whole people. The enforcement of the rule followed a motion made by Representative James H. Kiernan, who wanted the Assembly to consider a resolution calling for an investigation into the State institutions at Cranston.

FIND RIFLES IN HOME OF A GERMAN

New York Alien Also Had Revolvers and 10,000 Rounds of Cartridges

By International News Service.

New York, March 7.—Ten rifles, twenty revolvers and 10,000 rounds of ammunition were discovered in the home of John Rhubert, a German, when he was arrested in a raid at Haverstraw. He was brought here [illegible] and lodged in the Tombs, after first being questioned by Assistant United States Attorney Robert P. Stephenson.

Three other alleged alien enemies were arrested. The were Karl A. Wittinger, Gustav Harriman and George H. Kuhnkampf. Wittinger and Kuhnkampf were interned.

Coupled in the wristband of Wittinger's hat when he was arrested was a Danish passport which Federal agents declare had been forged. In his diary was found an entry holding up to ridicule the American soldiers bravery during the Tuscania disaster. Federal agents claim the prisoner had offered his services to the German consul to act as a German agent, prior to the entrance of America into the war, and that he had since sought to communicate with Germany.

Kuhnkampf was said to be a friend of Adolph Pavenstedt, the banker who is now interned. Hartman was arrested for failure to register for the selective draft.

REALTY MEN TO FIGHT TAX INCREASE

Declare Plan of Mayor Peters Will Work Many Hardships in City

Declaring that Mayor Peters' plan to advance the Boston tax rate is unpatriotic, will check the sale of Liberty bonds, paralyze business, set back prosperity, check building and prevent industries from coming here, George F. Washburn, president of Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, has sent out a circular letter to members of the organization requesting them to appear at the State House tomorrow to oppose it.

Mr. Washburn says that "however good the intentions of Mayor Peters may be, the fact is the plan will work havoc throughout the city. He says it will jump the local tax rate from $17.70 to probably $23.30.

His letter, in part, follows:

"The storm of opposition by the taxpayers of Boston that has greeted this proposed increase was indicated in the great crowd of men and women who were present to oppose it when Mayor Peters presented his plan.

"After the hearing a number of women taxpayers who had spoken before the committee formed an organization, which plans to hold indignation meetings in Faneuil Hall to protest. This only indicates the intensity of feeling on the part of the taxpayers over this staggering increase in taxes.

"A tax rate of $23.30 will mean:

"1. A loss to many taxpayers who will be unable to pay the increase.

"2. It will make it impossible to secure new mortgages.

"3. It will add to the interest rate on renewals of existing mortgages.

"4. It may mean wholesale foreclosures of mortgages.

"5. It will greatly check building operations.

"6. It will prevent scores of industries from coming to Boston.

"7. It will set back business prosperity many years.

"8. It will paralyze the business energies of the city.

"9. It will greatly reduce the number of home owners.

"10. It will render the sales of houses and apartments almost impossible.

"11. It is unpatriotic. It will check the sale of Liberty Bonds."

This $1250 Marvel

Is the Wonder-Car Today in Its Class

THE day of a fine car at $1250 isn't past. The best car ever shown in that class is this new Mitchell Light Six. It will amaze you. Come let us show it to you.

A six-cylinder motor of the highest development. So you get the smoothness of the Six, and all its tire-saving qualities.

A 40-horsepower motor, so you get abundant power. Yet it is daily giving, on country roads, from 16 to 18 miles per gallon.

A 120-inch wheelbase, so it is uniquely roomy. Compare that with rival cars.

Many Extra Features

You get the Mitchell shock-absorbing springs. A ten-minute ride will prove this the easiest-riding car ever built. Yet these long cantilever springs have never yet been broken.

You get a power tire pump, a dashboard engine primer, reversible headlights, and nearly all the other Mitchell extras.

You get a new-type steering gear which never tires the driver.

You get oversize parts, big margins of safety. There are nearly 200 drop forgings. There's a wealth of Chrome-Vanadium.

You get a superb, heat-fixed finish, for which Mitchell cars are famous. The luster is enduring.

And you get luxury and beauty far excelling any other car in this class.

How It Is Done

You will wonder how one car at this price gives so much more than others.

It is due to factory efficiency. Mitchell cars are built complete—chassis and bodies—in a mammoth, model plant.

The entire plant was built and equipped under famous efficiency experts. It is filled with the latest labor-saving machinery. Waste has been eliminated.

Built under old conditions a car like this would cost hundreds of dollars more.

The Mitchell Light Six comes in five new-style bodies. The new Mitchell line embraces 19 body styles.

It combines in one car all the best attractions found in nearly 200 cars.

Come and see it now. War-work is restricting output this year, so our supply is limited.

SOLDIERS FROM CAMP DEVENS ESCORT GOV. M'CALL AT AUTO SHOW

THOUSANDS AT EXHIBIT JOIN IN PAYING TRIBUTE TO BAY STATE'S CHIEF

By C. F. DONNOCKER.

Yesterday was banner day at the Auto Show. More than 10,000 people passed through the gates and at one time Manager Chester L. Campbell feared that he might have to close the doors.

The report of sales made during the day far exceeded that of any day this week and the dealers were all delighted with the business done.

The truck dealers have been especially busy and have had a profitable week. A commercial editorial places the amount of business done in the sale of commercial vehicles at more than a million dollars.

This is Governor's day at the Show and a great demonstration has been made by the state troops.

Governor McCall, in his official visit, will have an escort between 225 and 250 men from Camp Devens in command of Lieutenant D. T. Jones.

The men are of the 301st Supply Train and while the trip to the Automobile Show is in a sense a recreation for them, they will be expected to put in their time in advantage studying the cars and trucks with an eye to their use in military movements.

J. GORDON MACMURRAY AND HIS APPERSON JACKRABBIT STUNT

In addition to Lieutenant Jones, other officers with the detail will include Lieutenants D. T. Spalding, A. H. Henderson, L. Taylor, J. D. Moody, Jr., F. H. Thorpe, S. B. Butler and J. L. Fox.

The detail will reach the North Station at 12:45 p. m. and under the direction of Lt. S. Henshaw of the Boston Automobile Dealers' Association, a large number of cars will be waiting for them on Canal street. Having entrained in the cars, many of which have been loaned and will be driven by their owners, the soldiers will go under Bronson Haymarket Square, Washington, Hanover, Court, Tremont, Park and Beacon streets to the State House. A military band will accompany the soldiers.

At the State House Governor McCall will be received into the reviewing stand by a committee of the Boston Automobile Dealers' Association and President J. H. MacAlman, and will be escorted through the building. Plans have been made by all the exhibitors to take good care of the soldiers and assist them to every way

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—cheerful, bright, alert good cheer adds a natural, rare, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only more people realized they could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic looking, sunken eyed, pimply faces, with pasty or muddy complexions, in front of the multitudes of mere workers, feverishness, from lack of blood, we should see a virile, optimistic throng of well developed people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and by coils of bowels the previous day's indigestion, sour fermentations and poisons, before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store, which will cost only a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change both in health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. Optimism Keynote at Dinner Given by Smith Form-A-Truck

The dinner given by John L. Judd and the Smith Form-A-Truck Company at the Copley-Plaza was a most enjoyable affair. Mr. Judd had all his New England agents and many factory officials present and the keynote of the evening was a good time and optimism over the future of the automobile business.

The representative of the famous "truck maker" so to be designated on the remarkable selling organization he has built up and the huntsman done at the snow is ample proof of its efficiency.

Cold Motor Is Given a Thorough Test in Blizzard Conditions

The intensely cold weather and the deep snow which accompanied most of the automobile shows, particularly those at New York and Chicago, made it a difficult matter to give satisfactory demonstrations of the motors exhibited. Yet one firm, the Liberty Motor Company, actually conducted a disadvantage into an asset in the demonstrating of their automobile, the Liberty Six.

The "stove" in the manifold, which has been a Liberty feature for two seasons, made the starting of the motor an easy feature on the coldest day. After getting under way, the flexibility and speedy acceleration of the cold motor was demonstrated. The prospective buyer was hardly likely to lose sight of such advantages.

R. P. PAGE JR. AUTOCAR—"YES—THAT'S HIM"

Then, at undiminished speed, the car was sent ahead, over the snow filled streets, over car tracks and over bumps and ruts which countless vehicles had cut through the hard packed crust of ice and snow. The salesman invited the attention of the prospective buyer to the fact that there were no body squeaks and no objectionable rattles; that the five-inch frame and the wonderfully built body which was mounted on it were so constructed that everything fitted perfectly, and therefore the rattling and scraping noises which marked many cars were conspicuously absent.

New Apperson Eight With One Cam Shaft Now Under Inspection

The Apperson Anniversary car is here. After being delayed for about ten days it finally reached the Apperson Motor Car Co. of New England. Through the courtesy extended by Manager Campbell it was placed in the Apperson exhibit space, 112 Mechanics Building, for the balance of the show.

This is the first time that this model of those pioneer builders, the Apperson Brothers, has been shown in Boston. With the Anniversary car the Apperson factory has sent a chassis show motor, which shows just how the eighty parts have been eliminated from the eight motor. This year the Apperson has come to be known as the "eight with eighty less parts."

The new Apperson model has those little refinements of line and motor which have always marked another step in advance in the evolution of Apperson cars.

The Apperson motor is simplicity itself. It is different from any other eight-cylinder engine now being manufactured. Perhaps the clearest way to express it would be to say that it is the single Apperson four-cylinder doubled.

Motor Truck Hauls Are Proved by Far the Least Expensive

Recently one of the government departments announced that delivering $6,000,000 worth of merchandise with horses and wagons at one point cost $500,000. That makes the delivery equal to 8 per cent. of the whole amount.

Motor trucks hauling material have been found to be far the least expensive. Any public official readily admits that the motor truck surpasses the horse today. Therefore, when any department of a city, county or state decides to motorize its transportation facilities, truck dealers are requested to put their particular truck to a thorough test. That in many of the recent competitive tests the Maxwell has outclassed scores of competitors, is shown by the purchase of that make of truck.

Lucas Company Display Is Very Attractive

One of the most attractive exhibits

CHARLES T. COE DECORATES THE CHEVEROLET MORE WAYS THAN ONE in the show is that of the Mitchell-Lucas Company in Paul Revere Hall. The hall itself is practically a private salon, with its own orchestra, and spacious seats for the accommodation of the interested buyers who come to look over the Mitchell line.

GEORGE J. DUNHAM—EVERY THING THAT FLIES IS A STANDARD 8 TO HIM

The exhibit includes open and closed models of almost every description, but the one which is attracting the most attention is the red roadster. The handsome body lines are accentuated by the unusually beautiful coloring of the paint and upholstering. Many comments have been made about this particular car, and President F. H. Lucas is extremely well pleased with the interest taken in the whole exhibit.

"The Mitchell line this year shows some very fine new features which are making a big hit with the buying public. Numerous sales have been reported, and the week promises to be a memorable one for the local Mitchell dealer."

NEW HUDSON MODEL IN FOUR-PASSENGER COUPE

It is such items as general appearance, finish, the provisions for comfort and other particulars, appealing to the eye and taste of the motorist, that have made the exhibits of Hudson Super-Six models distinctive at the various Automobile Shows this year.

Here in Boston the Henley-Kimball Company is showing a brand new Hudson Super-Six model for the first time, that is making a particularly strong appeal to those who want something that is distinct and exclusive in a custom built coupe.

It is a four-passenger coupe, the seat beside the driver being an auxiliary which folds out of the way. An automatic heating arrangement is provided, also a ventilating system that lets cool air into the car when desired. The windows are raised and lowered automatically. The body is of aluminum.

SOCIETY WOMEN TO RAISE $75,000 FOR B. Y. W. C. A.

One hundred young society women will participate in next week's campaign to raise $75,000 for the Boston Young Women's Christian Association. Solicitations will begin Monday morning. The money is needed to meet expenses of the organization for the current year. Over 4,000 thousand young women benefit yearly from three houses of the association at No. 27½ Rutland, No. 40 Berkeley and No. 68 Warrenton streets, it is expected that the public will respond generously to the request for funds.

Among those who have endorsed the drive for funds is Bishop William Lawrence.

CONDEMN HARD COAL NOT UP TO STANDARD

Washington, March 7. — More than 1,600 tons of anthracite coal, which did not come up to standard in quality, were condemned in the Pennsylvania markets by the Fuel Administration in its campaign to compel the delivery of clean coal.

At the mines inspectors also condemned several cars a day because they were loaded with coal not of quality.

The campaign now turns to the bituminous field.

Scores of complaints have come to the Fuel Administration of dealers delivering inferior coal at the price of the standard quality.

REMOVED WEDDING RING WHEN ATTENDING PARTIES

Portland, Me., March 7.—"My wife always removed her wedding ring when she went to a party," testified George W. Hovey, assistant manager of a local drug store, during a hearing to secure a divorce from Alicia Hovey, by whom the husband declared he had been utterly deserted.

Hovey stated that he knew of no reason for his wife's dissatisfaction except that she liked parties and single life better than her home. It was the first divorce case under Judge Lauren M. Sanborn, recently appointed to the Superior court bench and he heard the decree.

IS FREED ON CHARGE OF BREAKING WINDOW

John D. O'Connell was discharged by Judge Wentworth in the Municipal Court on the charge of maliciously breaking a window. O'Connell told the court that he bounced a bottle of ketchup off the head of a restaurant proprietor after the latter had assaulted him with a window pole.

The bottle went through a plate glass window. The conflict was due to a misunderstanding as to O'Connell's right to use the telephone.

Barber Gives Recipe for Gray Hair

Tells How To Make a Home-Made Gray Hair Remedy.

Mr. A. E. O'Brien, who has been a barber in New York City for many years, made the following statement: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately made black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs only 25 cents, and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in one ounce of water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for use come in each box.

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex powder does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, analine, coaltar products or their derivatives.

"It does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."—Advertisement.

Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author Says

EVERY WOMAN EVERY MOTHER EVERY DAUGHTER NEEDS IRON AT TIMES

To help strengthen her nerves and put color into her cheeks

"Pinesh iron to be beautiful, healthy rosy-cheeked women without iron. Most trouble in the past has been that when women needed iron they generally took ordinary metallic iron which often corroded the stomach and did more harm than good. I always insist that my patients take only organic iron—Nuxated Iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated and does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach, but increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people. I suggest that haggard-looking women in ten days' time try to increase their iron. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results."—Ferdinand King, M.D.

NOTE: NUXATED IRON recommended by Dr. Ferdinand King can be obtained from any druggist. It is a well known preparation of unquestioned quality and is dispensed in tablet form by all good druggists.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain unmedicated cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful in all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fluffy, looking bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it removes and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

ANNE MORGAN'S PLAN MEETS OPPOSITION

N. E. Branch of French Fund Feels Work for Wounded Is More Imperative

The decision of the New England branch of the American Fund for French Wounded as to whether they will accept or reject the plan of Miss Anne Morgan, treasurer of the fund, to convert the organization into a society for civilian relief to assist in rehabilitation stricken France, will not be made until the New England members are called together for a conference.

According to Miss Edith Bange, of No. 255 Beacon street, chairman of the Boston Branch of the American Fund for French Wounded, the New England members of the organization deem it inadvisable to branch out into a new field such as Miss Morgan has planned. The New England members feel that the organization can accomplish much more by continuing as in the past to aid the wounded rather than divide the resources and funds.

Miss Bange made public a telegram received from Miss Morgan, which follows:

"Hope urge your New England associates in the American Fund for French Wounded not to be misled by newspaper statements asserting that the fund is embroiled on the subject of civilian relief or reconstruction work in France, and asserting also that either a faction is, or that I am, attempting to obtain such control of the fund as will lead it to devote itself to such work.

"I suggest that you inform all New England members that the fund, having by formal resolution, decided that it should concentrate on relief of French wounded and that reconstruction work should not hereafter be done by or under the name of the fund.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

Hub Spring Dream is Shattered by New Blizzard

Boston's dreams of "Spring, beau-ti-ful Spring," were rudely shattered early today by a small blizzard which moved into the New England front-line trenches in the stilly night.

When New Englanders unglued their eyes at daybreak two inches of the "hoary meteor" blanketed Old Mother Earth, and the air was filled with flying flakes. Landscapes near and far were blotted out by the dotted veil of snow flung by the lavish hand of Jupiter Pluvius.

According to the Weather Man, the storm moved into the Northeastern States from the Central Lake region, and it was snowing in all six of the New England States early today. The storm lasted "well into the afternoon," and will move out by Friday night.

The temperature this morning at 8 o'clock was 12 degrees Fahrenheit. "Not much change in temperature," was predicted by the Weather Bureau to follow the storm.

Those who stowed their galoshes in the fond hope that Winter was over, cursed "Brer Groundhog" good and plenty and remembered his gloomy prediction of "six weeks more of Winter," made on Candlemas Day, Feb. 2.

IS HELD WITHOUT BAIL ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Angelo Santullo, thirty-three, of No. 7 Brighton street, East Boston, was held without bail in Judge Barnes in the East Boston Court charged with murder in causing the death of Dominic Pugliese, thirty-nine, of No. 215 Hanover street, Boston.

The case was continued until Thursday, March 14. Pugliese was shot by Santullo after he had made approaches to the latter's wife. Santullo was arrested in Boston by Sergeant Lewis and Patrolman Fraser.

FORMER SCHOOL PITCHER DEAD IN ALEXANDRIA, VA.

Milford, March 7.— Glenn Albert Goodridge, well known some years ago as a schoolboy pitcher, is dead in Alexandria, Va., where he went a month ago to work as a carpenter for the government. CHARMING STAGE 'VAMPIRE' IS MISS JEANNE EAGELS

This beautiful "siren," who plays in "Hamilton" with George Arliss, is a rare type of blonde. She does a complete job of man-wrecking in the second act at the Hollis Theatre in less than five minutes.

By FRED J. McISAAC.

Theda Bara may be a more wicked vampire, and Cleopatra, Delilah and Circe more finished in their work, but when it comes to rapid fire, quick action, Liberty motor screwing, we shall have to present the frosted cake to Jeanne Eagels.

Miss Eagles is the blonde type of siren, a much rarer variety than the brunette and far more deadly.

She does a complete job of man-wrecking in the second act of "Hamilton" at the Hollis Street Theatre in less than five minutes by the wrist watch.

Alexander Hamilton is a great and noble character whom everybody has been extolling up to five minutes before the curtain in Act II. His mother-in-law hired a Colonial period vampire to call on him and tempt him from the straight and narrow.

In four minutes and forty seconds from the moment he lets her in, he is a goner. And if you are watching the show you do not blame him in the slightest degree. You are kind of jealous of George Arliss.

Yesterday afternoon I called on Miss Eagels who sees so quickly and so well, with the idea of getting a line on her method. Interviewing this actress is a comparatively simple matter for she has wads of time on her hands. In fact she works in only two scenes and for about eight minutes in all.

Eight times eight is sixty-four. Miss Eagels works one hour per week and four minutes over, which is getting the money easy. But on the other hand you have to look like Miss Eagels and possess her bewitching ways to get away with it.

Jeanne Eagels is an unusual looking blonde. Her hair is actually gold in color and it is her own. Her eyes are large and round. Her smile is appealing and is all alluring. Her voice is soft and bland. And she comes from Kansas City.

She comes from Kansas City, but her birthplace is Boston. She lived here for a year and then her parents moved West. Her father was Spanish and his name was Aegelo originally. Her mother was Irish and her name was O'Sullivan.

"How do you like playing baby vampires?" I asked her after the blood-curdling role had been enjoined.

"I like anything but sweet girl parts. I can relax with character and I had rather be wicked than insipid. I had rather be interesting than just good. I insist on playing parts that have something to them."

I remembered that she had toured the country at the head of one "Quincast" company while Kiki Ferguson was heading the other. There was a part that had "something to it," but the something wasn't something you liked to talk about, to a nice girl in the seclusion of her dressing room. Better wouldn't melt in Miss Eagels mouth at this moment, but I recollected the rough language of "Outcast."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why help the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logey" and "heavy." Note how fine your mind is, how bright and how this "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.—Advertisement.

BACK SUFFRAGE IN NATIONAL PROGRAM

Elect Officers at Chicago at First Session of National Party

By International News Service

Chicago, March 7.—The first national convention of the new National Party is in session here. The party's support to President Wilson in the prosecution of the war was pledged in the keynote address read by John Sparge, temporary chairman.

"All the enemies of democracy, however, are not marshaling under the banners of Hohenzollern and Hapsburg dynasties," he said. "There are also powerful and crafty enemies of democracy in our own lands."

He outlined a tentative program of party action which includes support of Prohibition, woman suffrage, public ownership of railroads, rooting plants and "other great fundamental economic agencies," and spoke against the return of railroads to private ownership.

David Coates was elected permanent chairman of the convention. Mrs. Marie Brehm of California, vice-chairman, and Miss F. Gets a Chicago and J. H. Holmes, Minnesota, secretaries.

After fifteen hours' debate, the National Convention of the Prohibition party decisively rejected the proposed merger with the National Party.

The following States bolted and jointed the National Party as entire units, despite the convention's adverse action on the merger issue: Minnesota, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota, Washington, Oregon, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

More than 180 delegates joined the new party as individuals, without committing their States to similar action.

As a compromise with the pro-merger forces, the convention adopted, by a two-thirds vote, a resolution indorsing the National Party and providing for a practical program of co-operation between the two organizations.

TO INVESTIGATE SELECTMEN AT WHITMAN

Board Will Be Asked to Account for Irregularities of Treasurer

Whitman, March 7.—The Whitman Selectmen must give an account of their stewardship. They are to be called upon to explain why they did not learn of the irregularities in the office of former Town Treasurer and Tax Collector Benjamin C. Reed long before they did. Reed is now serving a sentence of two years in the House of Correction for misappropriation of town money.

Although the Selectmen fought bitterly against the proposition to have Reed's affairs investigated, the citizens at the annual town meeting by a vote of eighty-one to twenty-five went on record as favoring the investigation.

A committee consisting of former Postmaster Richard J. Considine, Harold P. Gurney, Cornelius Sweeney, Harry E. Litchfield and Edward Dolan will conduct the investigation. Mr. Considine was the prime mover in the effort to investigate the selectmen's office. He was opposed by Chairman Kenneally and Maurice Reed, a member of the board.

Mr. Kenneally asserts that former Treasurer Reed was elected by the voters of the town and was answerable to them only. He says that the selectmen had no occasion to suspect his honesty and had they done so without any reason advanced friends of Reed would claim that an injustice was being done him.

The selectmen and their friends claim that the fault does not rest with the Board of Selectmen, but rather with the system of handling the town's finances.

Mr. Considine states that the selectmen should have known of the trouble in the two departments and that action should have been taken long before it was.

To Address Ministers.

"A Great National Movement" will be the topic of an address in Wesleyan Hall before the Methodist ministers of Boston, by F. E. Nicholson of Indiana, next Monday morning at 10:30.

Harding Seeks to Halt Orgy of Extravagance

Washington, March 7.—The "orgy of extravagance" now to burden us in the United States government, was lashed by the senate by Senator Harding of Ohio.

"I want to bring to a halt," he said, "the idea that this attitude for the republic is a fact for good times. Take the example of Grant Pass, with our coming to Washington. There are no time with no appropriation needed.

"With the war and talking about it, when they are over, I fear the people are going to Washington and demand that the government do something for them. We have the public money in the world and the last to exhaust the war. But we are bankrupt from the moral and political point of view, while our Allies, with but 10 per cent of our resources are not."

CLAIM WORKMEN SUSPECT HOG ISLAND GRAFT

Vardaman Has General Manager Robinson on Grill at Inquiry

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7.—Rear Admiral Robinson, general manager of the Hog Island shipyard, and the senate Commerce Committee that probed the Hog Island graft charges, were in conference this morning in the senate at his request, it was announced by Senator Vardaman of Mississippi.

Vardaman is making investigations in the feeling that there is a graft story there. He declared that he has information that workmen suspect graft at Hog Island. After the meeting, to which the American International Corporation and Admiral Robinson were invited, the shipping Board ratified the contracts of all steel ships under construction which is now in the hands of the American International Corporation. The total of the contracts is $1,000,000,000 and will be completed in 1919 and 1920. The average cost of each ship is $1,000,000.

GERMANY'S RAIL SYSTEM CRACKS UNDER STRAIN

Service Reduced 55 Per Cent. and Civilian Travel Is Discontinued

By International News Service.

The Hague, Feb. 14.—(By Mail)—Germany's railway system has begun to crack under the war strain. In addition to a long rush orders and the deterioration of rolling stock on additional burden has been added by the extra mileage which the Germans are compelled to operate in occupied territory. This extra tonnage may be roughly estimated as follows:

Belgium, 6,156 miles.
Poland and Russia, 4,310 miles.
France, 937 miles.
Roumania, 1,500 miles.
Serbia, 750 miles.

Since the beginning of the war Germany has built about 12,000 new cars and locomotives, but this country has been found inadequate for the requirements.

Many trains have been taken off entirely, fares have been increased and the resulting four-hundredth of the majority of the trains are most exclusively for troop movements, civilian travelers always coming in for second consideration.

The whole railroad train service in Germany has been reduced about 55 per cent in an effort to save coal and rolling stock, and this has aroused a storm of protest.

STOP GRAIN COMPANY FOR FOOD VIOLATIONS

Washington, March 7.—The Mount Morris Co-operative Elevator Company of Mount Morris, Mich., had its license taken away today by the Food Administration for failure to enforce the rules regarding the sale of substitutes with all purchases of wheat flour.

This is the first case of prosecution for failure to observe the fifty-fifty rule.

The license of John D. Kee, alias N. B. Keys, wholesaler in Denver, Kansas City and Middle Western States, was revoked because he was found with M. H. Schoffroka of New Mexico for appeal at 21,175 and sent him a check for $427.50.

FITCHBURG ASSESSOR AND SON FACE LIQUOR CHARGE

Fitchburg, March 7.—Louis D. Chesperance, city assessor and proprietor of a drug store in Cleghorn, and his son, Raymond L. Chesperance, clerk in the store, are under arrest on police court on liquor charges growing out of investigations in this city by the State and Federal police authorities. He is charged with illegal liquor keeping and his son is accused of an illegal sale of liquor.

The police say that Pacifique Gauthier, who pleaded guilty to a booze-running charge, admitted that he bought liquor at the L'Esperance drug store.

Annapolis and Newport Go "Dry"

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7.—Newport, R. I., Annapolis, Md., and Guantanamo, Cuba, were "dried up" as soon announced by Secretary of the Navy Daniels late today. The Secretary's edict prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors within five miles of any naval station.

The edict is effective "irrespective of whether or not the respective city or town has ability such ordinance." The stations affected are Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; Naval Training stations at Newport, R. I., Norfolk, Va.; Great Lakes, Ill., and Hampton Roads, Va.; training camps, Mare Island, Cal.; Pelham Bay Park, Charleston, S. C., and marine barracks, Quantico, Va.

GIRLS! TRY IT! HAVE THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Every particle of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine "hair bath." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few minutes you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides, beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; checks, scurfiness and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine, soft and downy at first—growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely avoid a few cents in a bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter, and try it.

Save your hair! Beautify it! You all say this was the best money you ever spent.—Advertisement.

MALDEN GIRL ATHLETE IS ANXIOUS TO FLY FOR U. S.

Miss Viola B. Palmgren, whose greatest ambition is to master the wiles of an aeroplane and drop bombs on the Boches.

Viola B. Palmgren of No. 24 Bowman street, Malden, is desirous of becoming an aviatrix. Her greatest ambition is to master the wiles of an aeroplane and drop bombs on the "Huns." Miss Palmgren is assistant clerk of Division 2 of the Malden Selective Draft Board.

High hopes are entertained that the government will consider her as a candidate for service with the aerial forces in France.

Of athletic accomplishments Miss Palmgren possesses but few, having been successful in doing some "stunts" that only the sturdiest and bravest would dare to tackle, such as swimming alone without a boat, against tide and wind, from Revere Beach to Nahant.

Being not a bit bashful about her age, the desired age was twenty years old. At the age of 21 then she had a gun license, in fact, the only gun license granted to a woman in Malden. During the hunting season last year more pheasants fell to her credit than to that of any other resident of the city.

TO BUILD PLENTY OF FORD WARSHIPS

By International News Service

Washington, March 7.—Ford warships will be built in great numbers if the Ford assembly turned out at the Detroit automobile factory prove successful. This statement was made by Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

The Navy Department is expecting great things of the new type of "submarine killer." The plans have the unqualified approval of navy experts.

The first Ford ship will be completed early in the Summer. Thorough tests then will be conducted to determine whether it will do what has been claimed for it.

The destroyer program is developing satisfactorily, said Secretary Daniels. Rapid deliveries will begin within the next few weeks.

Detroit, Mich., March 7.—It is understood on unquestionable authority that the Ford Motor Company is to produce "light tanks" for the use of the United States and the allies on a vast scale. Because the project has not received official sanction of the War Department, however, persons who are in possession of the facts are reticent on the matter.

The first model is near completion and with its completion and acceptance by the government, manufacture will be pushed with all speed. It is said that the first of these "tanks" will be ready for shipment within the next two months.

The Ford tank is to be comparatively a light machine carrying a driver and a machine gun operated and driven by two gasoline engines of standard type. It will have the familiar caterpillar traction, and while not intended for the heavy work of the immense British and French tanks, it is expected to prove an exceptionally effective fighting machine.

LOWER FLAG FOR DEATH OF EMPLOYE AT FRONT

Pittsfield, March 7.—Lieutenant John Flenniken, who was killed in action near Toul, France, on February 27, worked at the local General Electric plant for two years before he enlisted.

He came from a long line of fighting men, ancestors on the paternal side having taken part in the Revolutionary and Civil wars. His brother Joseph is with the 104th Infantry in France.

That he was able to care for himself was demonstrated during the strike of employes of the General Electric plant more than a year ago. His worked throughout the strike and each often looked over his head frame and tried to muster up courage to approach him.

Finally one of them did so, and was met with the warning:

"Now, look here friend, I'm going to work and I don't want to be interfered with. Just trot along and don't bother me or I am apt to knock your head off."

Thereafter he was let alone.

Bulletin announcing his death, the first from the plant, were posted about the works and all work's flags were placed at half staff.

WORCESTER BOY NOW A SECOND LIEUTENANT

Worcester, March 7.—Word has been received that Harold W. Mason, a Worcester boy and Dartmouth College graduate, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Ordnance Corps. He is stationed at Camp Meade, Maryland.

I. W. W. ACTIVITY CONFINED NOW TO ONE STATE

Agitators Segregated Mostly in Washington and Closely Watched There

By International News Service.

Washington, March 7.—The I. W. W. activity is gradually diminishing and is segregated almost in its entirety to the State of Washington, Secretary of Labor Wilson said today. Deportation will follow conviction of any I. W. W. who happens to be an alien, the secretary said, and in cases where the person is an American punishment will be turned over to the police.

An undercurrent of insidious German propaganda has incited the I. W. W. members in their attacks on property, Secretary Wilson said, and while responsibility has not been fixed on any one member, the organization has been subject to strong pro-German influences. The secretary expressed his entire willingness to confine the I. W. W. members who attempt to block American industry by destruction of property.

SO "PADDY" ENLISTS TO "FIGHT FOR BROTHERS"

Lynn, March 7.—"Go on, Paddy, fight for your brothers," was the message received by Patrick M. Conway, a watchman, of 590 Summer street, this city, that prompted him to enlist in the Canadian army, at Boston. The message was contained in a letter received from Conway's father in Ireland. The medical board at the British-Canadian recruiting mission, Bromfield street, accepted Conway and he will leave with the next detachment of recruits to Montreal on Monday.

Three of Conway's brothers are now in France, having enlisted in Ireland and Canada.

WILL RAID SPRUCE TREES FOR AIRCRAFT

Tacoma, March 7.—A raid on the hitherto inaccessible virgin spruce forests of the Grays Harbor country of Washington is to be made at once by an army of 4,000 to 5,000 men in the employ of the recently organized Aircraft Spruce & Lumber Company. To secure the fulfilment of its contract with Uncle Sam the company has furnished a bond of $200,000.

In getting out the timber, hand logging, steam logging, riving, power splitting and even small portable sawmills will be used. Great motor trucks also will be used in large numbers to get the timber to the mills.

WANT UNIFORM BUSINESS HOURS IN WORCESTER

Worcester, March 7.—Worcester merchants propose to have uniform hours for the transactions of business. At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce it will be recommended that a system of trading hours, advantageous to the public and to the stores, be established as soon as possible.

Newton Girl Is to Wed an Army Aviator

The engagement has just been announced of Miss Carolyn Guild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Guild of Newton, to Lieutenant Malvin Philip Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Reading Bryan of Brookline. Lieutenant Bryan recently received his commission in the Signal Reserve Corps, Aviation Section, and is expected to sail immediately for active service in France.

Miss Guild was graduated from Miss Porter's school at Farmington, Ct., in 1917, and is now a pupil at Miss Wilson's school in Longwood. She has been an active worker in Red Cross and other war relief work.

Lieutenant Bryan was formerly a member of the American Field Ambulance Service in France. He was a member of the 1919 class at Harvard, having prepared for college at the Mackley school at Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson.

WOUNDED VERMONT MAN IN ARMY FOR 3 YEARS

Bennington, Vt., March 7.—Private Alfred J. Gratton, reported wounded in action on March 3, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Gratton of Bennington. He is twenty-three years of age and has been in the army for three years, enlisting at Rutland in Company A, 1st Vermont Volunteers, and serving in Company A at the Mexican border. He was married just before leaving for France.

READING SOLDIER WAS ONCE ON STATE POLICE

Reading, March 7.—Private Ralph L. Christenson of No. 2 Hancock street, a member of the machine gun battalion who was wounded in action at the front, was a member of the State police before enlisting last July. His wife is ill. He has two children, Dana, two years, and Dorothy, three years.

Private Christenson is twenty-six years old and enlisted with the 102nd Machine Gun Battalion, which was formerly Troop C, cavalry, Boston

Highway System Makes Work of Autos Easy

The 20,000 mile United America tour made in a Jumbobile last year to every state capital in the Union demonstrated the remarkable utility of interlacing motor highways in the event of serious interruption of railroad facilities.

Taking the country as a whole the roads were none of the best, but the fact that a touring car without special preparation made the trip without serious mishap is positive proof that this country with its full complement of motor cars would be far from helpless should railway transportation become even more difficult than it is at present.

FULLERTON CALLS RED SOX, YANKS AND BROWNS REAL RIVALS OF CHICAGO TEAM

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

Last Spring, in the dope, I figured that Manager Rowland of the Chicago White Sox would be compelled to play McMullin at third and Weaver at short. Instead he sent Risberg to short, and Risberg, to be plain, "blew up" at the critical stage of the year. He started fighting himself, worrying and the strain hurt his playing

It was his first year as a major leaguer, and he proved that he is a comer and that, once settled to his stride and free from nervousness, he will be a wonderful shortstop.

Mechanically, he is one of the best shortstops in the country now, despite a few technical faults

Rowland's problem now is whether to play McMullin at third and Weaver at short, or listen to Weaver's desires and play him at third with Risberg at short.

It is a vital problem. The question is whether McMullin is as good a ball player as he seemed to be last Fall.

The boy has nerve, courage, and he is a fighting, aggressive player

He made a bad break, a "bone" play during his early career with the Sox that came near sending him back to the minors

He did not hit when he got his first chance

Then he came back, hit well, played well (over a comparatively short period) and the fans are wild about him.

Yet in that famous game in the World's Series, in which Chicago came from behind, beat the Giants and practically won the Series, Mc. Mullin made one of the worst plays I ever saw in a championship contest—a play that practically put Cicotte out of the Series, and which deserves, in my opinion, to rank with Zimmerman's play in New York, or Fabre's steal of third.

PRIZE BONE PLAY.

The Giants were leading. Cicotte had come to the rescue of Russell and was pitching his heart out trying to stop the Giants before they piled up a commanding lead

The Giants had runners on first and third bases and one out—with no runs scored in the inning as yet. The batter was a comparatively slow man—the runner on first was not fast.

The ball was hit like a flash to McMullin on the first bound. He fielded it perfectly.

It was a perfect double play ball. Collins was at second base, the fastest man in the league on a relay throw. A double play meant the end of the most rally and the salvation of the Sox—a chance for Cicotte to warm up and recuperate for the remainder of the game.

McMullin fired the ball to the plate He got a runner but him followed and the Giants piled up a big lead Worse, Cicotte ended the inning tired

FIGHT HARD WHEN BEHIND.

The play made me doubt McMullin more than any I have seen. I have an idea that Rowland will start the season with Weaver at third and Risberg at short, and although the fans will howl for a time, it seems the proper combination, tough as it may seem on McMullin

The remainder of the team will be an unusual one in odd years, a team that appears listless and lacking in spirit, except for Schalk and Weaver) until the opponents get ahead Then the Sox come from behind, fighting, raging and working desperately.

Last season they played that way for months—and usually came from behind and won

The team did not really wake up and start hustling from first to last for every game until Boston seemed to have the advantage

Then it settled down to work, and won going away

The fact that Boston again looms formidably may cause the Sox to hustle from the start to finish this season.

Also the constant fear of losing Faber may scare them into working

They are not strong enough to give the other teams any handicap this year.

In fact, I doubt whether the dope figures a month from now will show them the strongest team in the League.

There are new elements upon which they must figure: The strengthened Red Sox, the much strengthened Yankees—and (don't laugh now) the St. Louis Browns.

When we reach the study of the Browns, there will be several things about the Browns to study. There were elements that entered into their failure last season, which, if removed, make them a dangerous and troublesome contender for the pennant

Fullerton Is Noted for Picking Winners

Hugh Fullerton's Spring dope on the major league teams is considered one of the pre-season's big features by the followers of the pastime.

A year ago this time the famous writer and statistician sized up the teams with uncanny accuracy.

He picked the winners in each league, and with one or two minor exceptions named the order of the October finishes.

In this annual Spring prophecy Fullerton will show the strength and weakness of each club in the two big circuits, and will predict in cold figures the final standing of each team.

Fullerton's articles will be published in the AMERICAN only.

HORNSBY DOWN TO LAND WITH MITCHELL

By H. W. LANIGAN.

In addition to Pitcher Alexander-Catcher Killifer and First baseman Tyler—the ex-Braves is carded to quit slab toil and be a regular Fred Mitchell, Cub pilot-in, is in high hopes of acquiring Shortstop Rogers Hornsby or a similar member of the house of Ruppert.

From the West comes word that Hornsby will be a Cub before the end of the week Weegman has been after him all Winter, and where originally Rickey stated he would not sell the crack infielder he has just told the St. Louis public he cannot afford to hold on to him. Which is taken to mean Hornsby will land in Chicago

The Cubs' prexy, so word comes to the AMERICAN from Chicago, stands willing to pay the Cardinals $75,000 in regular money for Hornsby and toss in four players to boot. Pitcher Hendrix, catcher Elliott and infielders Deal and Wortman.

Proprietor Frazee of the Sox before returning to New York in company with Manager Barrow, stated in emphatic terms that in his opinion the 1919 pennant race was far from closed. In fact, it is just getting it. He will have appealed to the National Commission and am confident Conway will be declared a free agent, stated Frazee. "I am not blaming the Braves at all. But I am mighty sore at the Worcester people. They went back on our verbal agreement. I expect to be fined, and will be glad to settle it, but want Worcester to get what it deserves"

Urban (Red) Faber, noted Fighthander of the White Sox, is not to go drafted, after all. It appears that his home district, Cascade, Ia., sent enough volunteers in the army to make the call on conscripted men unnecessary at present.

Of course, Faber may eventually quit the flannels for the khaki But as matters stand he is bound to be with the clan of Rowland at the start of the campaign; in fact, will probably tarry with it all Summer

PLESTINA CHALLENGES WRESTLING CHAMPS

New York, March 7.—Joseph C Marsh, manager of Marins Plestina, aspirant to the heavyweight wrestling title, today declared war on the wrestling trust.

"Plestina will guarantee to throw Earl Caddock or Walden Chrystek twice in ninety minues or any other man in the world the best two out of three falls for a substantial side bet," said Marsh.

"The wrestling trust is trying to freeze Plestina out of championship competition and we hope to force a showdown."

Marsh formerly managed the late Frank Gotch, undefeated wrestling champion of the world.

"JOHN L." AS I KNEW HIM" BY JAMES J. CORBETT.

JAMES J. CORBETT.

THIS is the sixteenth chapter of a series which James J Corbett is writing on "John L. as I knew Him" It relates many heretofore unpublished incidents in the life of the great warrior The next instalment will appear tomorrow

On the green award, near Chantilly, France, was staged the L. Sullivan-Charley Mitchell contest that has a place in pugilistic history Time to the first knock-down London district turned out in force to witness and thereby frighten the great champion

It was their hope to turn their attention from fighting it might distract his thoughts from the battle and give Mitchell his chance to win Their bets which Londonites have never been, strangers to

But those fears were soon set at rest Without any doubt Sullivan was the original and fugitive. A sportsman but with a temper of John L. and a temper to match Mitchell-Sullivan

That I am not the only Billy Porter who has been a bad boy of the ring at the down in America

Porter, in London when the match was made, had heard about the plot to menace John L. with a show of revolvers and knives at the ringside. So he went along with the crowd that made the trip from England to France

INTRODUCES TWO FRIENDS

As the big fighters and the regular party were going to a place near Suresnes Wood for breakfast on the day of the fight we all got into a coach of some description and Billy Porter introduced to me two friends of his from America

Both were big men and looked the part. One was a prize fighter from Boston, the Massachusetts town that has produced so many good fighters

And then Porter went back in his seats, which was next to Sullivan's corner, and from that spot witnessed the contest. Would that an American was there, doubly armed and ready to sacrifice his life for me that John L. got a square deal, overawed the toughs, and their pluns to rush the ring were abandoned.

It was on March 9, '88, the fight was fought and Billy Mitchell, hale and hearty, was compelled to be carried from the ring to his dressing room and there suffered and [illegible] their shoes

GET A SLOGAN TO BEAT THE REBEL YELL

Snappy Expression Is Better Than a Choice Arrangement of Nice Words

Brevity, in addition to being "the soul of wit," is also the secret of a snappy slogan.

The Rebel yell in '64 had no choice arrangement of words and it was at once and the same time the most inspiring and blood-curdling thing ever "put over" in the history of America.

The Slogan Editor has received among hundreds of others the following suggestions:

"SHED YOUR BAYONET."—N. T. Fogg, Sanford, Me.

"GANGWAY FOR COLUMBIA."—H. L. Williams, Portland, Me.

"RAUS MIT THE HUN."—Miss Monica Colwell, No. 14 Carson place, Pittsfield.

"UNCLE SAM IN BEGLIN BY INDEPENDENCE DAY."—Alice Cook, age fourteen, No. 558 Shirley street, Winthrop.

"TO DEATH OR VICTORY."—C. A. Olsen, No. 11 Bellevue street, Dorchester.

"UP AND OVER, PALS, AND GIVE 'EM HELL."—Robert McCreery Jr., No. 9 Providence street, Lowell.

DEMOCRACY BOSTON, THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1918. LIBERTY

GOLDEN RULE SHOW CHEERS PIER TARS

Bluejackets Declare Bill Best Yet at Seaside Theatre.

By Paul Whelton.

Aboard the Receiving Ship, Commonwealth Pier, March 7.—The entire personnel of the good ship "Stay-Here" mopped their brows and breathed a sigh of relief as "Little Huth" White rose from her bowing position and backed into the wings, following her "Salome" song in "Seaside Theatre."

"Gosh! If them shoulder straps ever busted, the ship'd been sunk!" exclaimed a blue-clad gob as he peered over the heads of his fellow spectators in the hope that Miss Whi would give an encore.

"Little Huth" was one of the many excellent performers in the show given aboard ship by the Golden Rule Club.

Flanked by a circle of pretty girls, the principals in the cast worked like Trojans in "putting over" one of the best shows seen thus far on the "Humbolte."

Arthur Donovan and Joe Devine, a pair of black-visaged end-men, had a number of mirth-producing gags to unload on the unsuspecting tars, and pulled them in good style.

Miss Gertrude Dolan and Miss C. Dolan had each a dance specialty as their bits. Miss Gertrude Dolan particularly good in her "Dance a la Military."

"Decker" Thornton, the old South Boston High School athlete, now a member of Uncle Sam's Navy, did his turn in uniform and received one of the best hands of the evening.

Joel Hall, who, with Thomas A. Delay, directed the performance, appeared with her dancing specialty, Lester Young, in a specialty dance, and again in a song, "Oh Papa."

Others in the cast included Miss Nellie Fergusson, the Misses Aylward and Cobb, Miss Cecil Mara, Mr. Taylor, magician; Frederick Williams, Joe Barry, William Burns, the Misses Gaffney and Quincy, Tommie McHugh, Miss Ramona Hawkins, John Kiley, Warren Dorothy, the Misses Helen and Irene Roche and the Misses Sadie Crane and Mae Carney.

H. P. Woodward acted as interlocutor.

Prior to the performance, Paul Oberg, leader of "Young" Chiodo, two leading members of Eddie Murphy's mill crew, demonstrated above and tampered earnestly for three rounds with each others' chins. The contest was called a draw by Referee H. V. Cooney.

DEDICATION OF CAMP LIBRARY STRICKING

Governor McCall Urges Soldiers at Devens to Make Use of Books.

By William Flynn.

Camp Devens, Ayer, March 7.—The dedication of the camp library was one of the most brilliant military functions that has been staged here since the cantonment opened, and the officers and men of the Ninth Infantry Brigade, who turned out in honor of Governor Samuel W. McCall, made an excellent showing.

The rugged appearance of the men who lined the streets of the camp from the main gate to the library made a striking impression upon His Excellency, who complimented Major-General Harry F. Hodges upon the high character of his command.

Governor McCall and his party, which included Mrs. McCall and Miss Emma M. Bancroft and Mrs. Walter P. Windsor of Boston, were met at the camp gate and escorted to the library by a detail of mounted headquarters troops.

Charles F. D. Belden, chairman of the Massachusetts State Library Commission, who presided at the dedication, delivered the opening address and presented the library to the Army in behalf of the American Library Association. The library was accepted by Major-General Hodges, who responded with a stirring speech which brought salvos of applause from those present. J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr., of Boston, spoke as a member of the Library War Service Council.

Governor McCall urged officers and men to make as much use of the library as possible, and commented upon the educational benefits to be found "in the democracy of the camp libraries." J. A. Lowe, camp librarian, closed the exercises with a brief talk on the purposes of the library and the use that has already been made of it. Following the exercises a luncheon was served, and Miss Dorothy Forbes of Boston and the wives of several of the officers poured.

The Governor was later tendered by Major-Columbus Secretary John F. Salmon the Loyalty Cup of the Knights of Columbus Auditorium, where he was received by General Secretary J. A. Owens of the Knights of Columbus. There the Governor submitted he had never seen a basketball game played, and he was staged for his benefit.

After paying a tribute to the Knights of Columbus organization for the great help it is proving to the soldiers in the service, the Governor and his party visited the Y. M. C. A. auditorium and later returned to Boston.

APPRECIATION

Editorial

Accuracy and efficiency go hand and hand in the army—one makes the other, and both go to make a good soldier. From the time a "rookie" steps into the service the need of accuracy in everything is drilled into him by his superiors, and there is no letup.

The men in most outfits are inclined to pattern themselves after their commanders. If the commanders are careless, the men will be also, but if the commanders possess the qualities of the ideal officer, the men gradually absorb their spirit and it is reflected in the appearance and efficiency of the organization.

Accuracy in the army has a long ways companion in cleanliness.

History has shown that a slovenly soldier is seldom an accurate one, and that is one reason why the soldier's appearance and his standard of living are given such critical attention.

A soldier who neglects himself is likely to forget other things, and in the army there is no room for neglect.

The skillful manner in which Jimmy Malloon, "coxswain of the Pilar goat," hashes his recalcitrant charge, excites the envy of the "gobs" unyielded to witness the operation, and is alleged by those onlookers that Muldoon is endeavoring to go my by "boatswain's mate of the butter."

Bill Carroll of Everett, formerly a Boston salesman, left the Radio School this week to go to the fleet.

Among the Boys at Camp Devens

On and after March 15 all milk used at any mess or post exchange in the cantonment must be pasteurized according to an order made public at division headquarters. It was also announced that all streets in the cantonment are to be numbered or named to aid visitors and others in making their way from one end to another.

Two more officers have been sent to the school of fire at Fort Sill, Okla. They are Major J. W. Farley of Boston, who is attached to the 302d Infantry, and Captain Edward A. Leroy of Bernardsville, N. Y., who is attached to the 151st Depot Brigade.

Lieutenant F. J. Hodgson of Battery E, 302d Field Artillery, has been appointed an aid to Brigadier-General Robert L. Howze, former commander of the Department of the Northeast, with headquarters in Boston, who has been sent to Texas in command of a cavalry brigade.

* * *

Lieutenant Clyde McKinstry Nichols of division headquarters staff, has married Miss Alma Ruth Foster, daughter of Mrs. Nora Foster of New York, in the Notre Dame Cathedral in that city.

Lieutenants LeBarron B. Briggs and B. J. Finan of the 302d Engineers, have been assistant to the Camp Quartermaster.

Major Orville Whitney, who came to camp a week ago, has received orders to return to Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg, S. C. He appeared at Camp Devens through a mistake.

ROOKIES NOT TO FILL DEVENS VACANCIES

To Pattern Harvard R. O. T. C. After Schools at Ayer

By WILLIAM M. FLYNN.

Camp Devens, Ayer, March 7.—The 7,000 men who came here in the last 15 per cent. of the first draft and who are now attached to the 151st Depot Brigade, will not be transferred, to fill existing vacancies in the various units of the Seventy-sixth Division. This became known throughout the cantonment today after it was learned that the War Department had given favorable requests from officers of the Seventy-sixth Division for 2,500 men from the Depot Brigade to fill up their depleted commands.

The action on the part of the authorities at Washington has led to the belief that the men in the Depot Brigade are to be shifted to some other command and that the vacancies in the Devens division will not be filled until after the arrival of the men in the second draft, as a result the training of the division as a whole is expected to be hastened during the next few months unless men of equal training are transferred during the period of other camps.

Every Jew in the cantonment, which includes those in the Depot Brigade, are to be allowed forty-eight hours leave to observe the Passover. The furloughs start at sundown on March 27 and is due in part to the activities of the Hebrew Welfare Association. Kosher food is also to be sold in the post exchanges provided the food offered for sale meets with the approval of Major J. L. Bernz, Division Sanitary Inspector.

Professor D. W. Lowe, regimental adjutant of the Harvard R. O. T. C., came to camp to inspect several of the schools in the cantonment with Colonel Edward Ellery, Inspector of Division Schools. It is planned to pattern the Harvard R. O. T. C. schools as far as possible after the schools that are being conducted here in camp, and later officers from this cantonment will be detailed to deliver lectures to the men of the Harvard Training Corps.

Preparations are already being made for the early Spring baseball drive and practically every unit in the cantonment is expected to be represented on the diamond. Uniforms have already been ordered for some of the teams and many companies are devising ways and means of securing suits for their nines.

Private Stephen Carfaro of Company F of "Boston's Own" is reported as having been missing from the front for nearly three weeks

'ADAMS AND EVES' MUST CONFORM TO THE LAW

Waukegan, Ill., March 7.—Zion City Adams and Eves do not have to go to jail because they must make their Garden of Eden more conventional. A grand jury here has refused to take a serious view of the "Back-to-Eden" matrimonial practises of Ike, Charles Harris, and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Charles Sanson and Mrs. Coulthard, and H. C. Payne and Mrs. Ora Jayne Durham. No indictments were returned and the six advocates of the "Back to Eden" style of marriage were released.

The Adams and Eves, however, were warned that their mating here, after must follow more rigidly the requirements of modern law.

GEN. SPEAKS HONORABLY DISCHARGED FROM ARMY

Washington, March 7. — General John Speaks, formerly commander of the 37th Brigade at Camp Sheridan, Ala., and for many years prominent in the National Guard of Ohio, has been honorably discharged from the Army by order of President Wilson.

BRITISH FOOD HOARDER SOLICITOUS FOR DOG

London, March 7.—Miss Evodia Hughes was fined $250 at Carmarthen, Wales, under the food hoarding act for buying 102 pounds of meat in ten days. She explained that her dog had a weak heart and required much meat.

BLOCK EFFORTS TO STAMP OUT GAMBLING

Providence Women Place the Blame Upon Rhode Island Politicians

Providence, March 7.—Politicians said to be interested in the "club" situation, are credited with blocking every effort to stamp out wide-open gambling, said to flourish all over the city as the result of what women term "indiscriminate issuing of club licenses" by the Police Commission.

Woman workers charge that politicians father applications for club licenses where liquor is sold after hours and which, they say, is known to the police. It is charged that in many of the clubs "dice-shaking" is the incentive participated in by youths.

DANCE IN ROXBURY TO AID 55TH REGIMENT

Roxbury and Dorchester boys in Battery B of the Fifty-fifth Regiment, Coast Artillery Corps, will conduct a dance for the benefit of that organization's fund in Intercolonial Hall, Roxbury, tonight. A feature of the party will be a dance by girls garbed in the colors of the Allied nations. The committee in charge of the dance consists of Sergeant Joseph Sloan, Corporal Fred J. Milliken, Harry Carey, George Hughes, Alexander Cameron, D. A. Ross, C. J. Kelley, W. J. Murphy, Henry I. Bond and John J. Keefe.

Harvard Graduates Move to Organize Liberal Clubs

The AMERICAN notes with pleasure that a strong movement is on foot among the progressive members of the Harvard Alumni to organize Harvard Liberal Clubs in Boston, New York, Chicago, Washington, St. Louis, San Francisco, and other cities where large numbers of Harvard graduates are found. The plan has found favor with the liberal graduates of Yale and Princeton also, and similar clubs are being organized among the alumni of these and other colleges, with a view to the ultimate formation of an intercollegiate association of liberal clubs, all animated by the common purpose of resisting the reactionary tendencies of our highly-endowed universities and focussing educated liberal opinion in support of the industrial, social, economic and governmental reforms upon which the safety of democracy and the success of our great American experiment in self-government so largely depend.

The great success of the Liberal Clubs of England, also in the main composed of university men, in moulding public opinion in aid of the electoral reform movement which culminated in 1832, probably suggested this new organization, and certainly augurs well for its future usefulness.

It is indeed high time that such a movement should be set on foot among the alumni of Harvard College, where the drift away from its original ideals of democracy toward plutocracy—a drift natural, perhaps inevitable, in all private educational institutions that depend for their prosperity and growth upon the contributions and endowments of very wealthy men—has been regretfully noted by patriotic observers for many years; in fact, ever since Emerson complained, in 1861, that "Harvard College has no voice in Harvard College, but State Street votes it down on every ballot. Everything is permitted there that goes to adorn Boston Whigism, but that which it exists for, to be a fountain of novelties out of Heaven to lift and lead mankind, THAT it shall not be permitted to do or think of!"

The New York Evening Post, a few months ago, in an editorial which reads almost like a communication of Emerson from the spirit world, comments upon "the extraordinary preponderance of financiers, railroad men, corporation lawyers and others of great wealth," upon the board of Harvard Overseers. The five members elected to the board in 1916 were J. P. Morgan, Francis Lee Higginson, Jr., Eliot Wadsworth (of the Stone & Webster Co.), Howard Elliott of the New Haven Railroad, and William Thomas, a leading corporation lawyer of San Francisco, while of the last twenty-nine Boston men nominated by the nominating committee of the Harvard Alumni Association all but six were connected with three closely allied financial institutions—Lee, Higginson & Company, the First National Bank, and Kidder, Peabody & Company. This singular preponderance of investment banking concerns in the directorate of the university may be, as the Post charitably surmises, merely the result of "a natural tendency to select successful men of affairs of large means, in consideration of the enormous sums that must be raised for running expenses and endowments," and may not be the cause of such regrettable occurrences as the orification of the prince of stock-watering railroad promoters, mes J. Hill, and the condonation of the wreckers of the New ven the Boston & Maine Railroads, or of the remarkable and ar-reactionary edict which a few years ago barred the halls of the versity against all discussions of "moot and contemporary" questions of public policy. But be the cause what it may, the condition indeed regrettable from every viewpoint, and the tendency that pounced it cannot be counteracted too soon for the welfare of the lege itself, as well as for the welfare of the nation which it was ected, as Emerson asserted, to guide and enlighten and not to mp and mislead.

That the counteracting force should originate among the graduates themselves, and not be applied from without, is a consummation devoutly to be wished. The organization of these Harvard Liberal Clubs is a welcome step in the right direction. May their tribe greatly increase.

What Becomes of the Skins of Pigs, Mr. Armour?

Copyright, 1918, by the Star Company.

If it is a fact that sixty-seven million pigs are killed each year, and that the country fails to use for leather nine-tenths of all the pig hides, somebody is foolish.

We refer this interesting and important communication to Mr. Armour, the intelligent boss of the pig business, to preachers of economy, and to the national common sense.

A PLEA FOR PIG LEATHER.

By C. H. ROEDER

There is a great shortage of leather, and articles made from same are costly. Substitutes are being used to the detriment of durability. A few of our great men look for even higher prices; some are looking into the high skies and others under the earth for relief. Government scientists very commendably recommend the use of skins of pedacious fishes for leather.

We are at war and our soldiers and sailors will need vast quantities of shoes and other articles made of leather, and then more and more. We are asked to economize in every possible way that our boys may be well fed and equipped to win this war.

I wish to call attention to the enormous quantity of material we have and which is now wantonly wasted.

We slaughtered about 67,000,000 pigs in 1916 and hardly 10 per cent. was used for leather. Articles made from this leather are higher than other goods. Why the skin from pigs is not removed like beef or lamb is an unexplainable absurdity.

In the United States we produce about 67,000,000 pigs or hogs every year, and which could very easily be increased to meet any need. The average skin will make more than five pairs of uppers for shoes. We now waste more than enough of this valuable material to make over 300,000,000 pairs of shoes.

The remedy can be found in a plain law, which the Congress should enact, amending the interstate commerce law "forbidding the interstate shipment of all pork products with the skin on." The States should forbid the sale of all intrastate pork products with the skin on.

"En Route"

By Paul Harris Drake

It was only a snatch of a dear old tune—some bars of a sweet refrain;
'Twas hummed by a care-free, red-cheeked boy as he sold his wares on the train.

It was half a song and partly a hymn, and it gripped our hearts like steel
As it rose on the trembling air of the car o'er the rattle of rail and wheel.

"We shall meet, but we shall miss him; there will be one vacant chair,"
The soul of the singer murmured—unmindful of sob or stare.

Uneasily every traveler, touched by the trainboy's song,
Shifted his cramped position as the young lad passed along.

And many a callous "runner," along with matron and maid,
Gulped hard at the fateful picture which the dear, sad lines portrayed.

"We shall meet, but we shall miss him; there will be one vacant chair"—
The truth of the old-time ballad was borne in the surcharged air!

When at last the train-boy vanished, and our eyes with tears were dim,
Our thoughts through the live-long journey were only of France and "Him"!

OUR SOLDIER BOYS PASS YOUTH FOR AGE

By Winifred Black

"HOW much nicer they are when they're young," said the motherly woman. "I have three sons of my own, and I've always thought I was prejudiced about them, but now I see that part of the things I like about them belong to them because they're young.

"I've been finding it out since I've been here in the canteen, looking after the soldiers.

"They come from everywhere, all over the country, and some from Alaska and the Philippines and Hawaii, and they're the dearest things!

"We have a lot of pretty girls here, you know. They come to help serve, and to dance with the boys, and that sort of thing. But, do you know, those boys will leave one of them in a minute any day to come and have a heart-to-heart visit with a gray-haired woman. Isn't it sweet of them?

Those They Like to Know

"I took the prettiest girl in town into the canteen the other day and thought she'd make a sensation. She did, too. I could see the boys straightening up and looking conscious. But when I introduced some of them to her, do you know what happened?

"One of them said to me:

"'Who's that lady at the coffee urn? I wish I knew her. She looks just exactly like my Aunt Effie back home—she helped to raise me. I used to think she was kind of cranky sometimes when she made me go back and scrub my ears all over again, but now I'd give a bit to see her. I'd kind of like to talk to Aunt Effie over there at the coffee urn. Do you suppose she'd be mad if she knew I called her that to myself?'

"I wonder why it is that men are not as nice when they're forty as women are?

What Is the Reason?

"Women are such fools, so many of them, when they're very young, so selfish and cruel, and careless and light-headed, but as they grow older they seem to sweeten and soften and get kinder and more generous and less wrapped up in themselves.

"I wish I could think men were the same, but somehow"——

I've been thinking a good deal about what the motherly woman said, and wondering about it. I've noticed, too, in another way.

The boys believe in women and respect them, and think little evil of them, but the older men, sometimes, are so cynical that it makes my heart ache. I wonder if it's because they know so many different kinds of women that they forget that there is a difference—between the two kinds. And—do we encourage them to think evil of us by showing them our meanest, most selfish, most foolish side?

I wish I knew the answer to this question—it would explain so many things.

Against Baseball on Sunday

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

I noticed in your paper recently that there is before the Legislature a bill which, if enacted into law, would permit the soldiers and sailors to hold baseball games on Sunday. I was shocked when I read it and felt sad, because I am acquainted with some of the soldier boys who have written and told me what fine meetings they have at the Y. M. C. A. and I believe many boys will come home better men than when they went, but if they are allowed to have sports on the Sabbath day we cannot expect them to be. It is my wish and prayer that the bill will not pass. How can we expect to win the war if we break God's commandment, for He said remember to keep holy the Sabbath day, and we ought to do so, and if we do not God will punish us. You remember last year when the bill passed permitting the public to plant gardens on Sunday. What was the result? Why, a failure. Could we expect otherwise? Therefore, if we trust God and obey Him, He will take care of us, for He says so, and I take Him at His word. Hoping that the bill will not pass,

I remain, respectfully,

E. B. B.

Biddeford, Me.

MARRIAGE CONTRACT REVISION IS DUE

By Mrs. Wilson Woodrow

ONE must be bold indeed who would attempt to render infallible counsel to either husband or wife in any case of matrimonial disagreement. It is preeminently ground where angels fear to tread.

There are so many elements that enter in, so many little incidents that go to make up the record—incidents so trivial, perhaps, that they have been forgotten by both sides, yet which have left their ineffaceable scars—the whole question is so blended of the deepest emotions and the quality of the breakfast coffee, so confused between billing and bills, so narrowly divided between tiff and tragedy, that Omniscience alone could fairly sift out the rights from the wrongs in any given instance.

Such a flood of letters as has avalanched upon me within the last few weeks, telling of quarrels, misunderstandings and disaffection between husbands and wives!

I sometimes wonder if this long, cold Winter, which has kept people more closely indoors than usual, interfered with our usual outside diversions, and with its heatless Mondays and other discomforts had managed generally to get on our nerves, may not be in large measure responsible; just as men off a polar expedition, or who spend long seasons unvisited in some lonely lighthouse, or at some isolated station, invariably grow surly and ill-tempered and fall out with their associates.

Spring's Influence

That east wind to which Mr. Jarndyce of Bleak House ascribed all the unpleasant and distressing things of life may have more to do with the "divorce evil" than we imagine.

May it not be, too, that with the return of Spring and apple blossom time, charged to each of us with romantic memories, there will ensue a season of reconciliation, and that many of the differences which now loom so ominous and insurmountable will disappear like icebergs in a Summer sea?

From the multitude of letters I have received I have finally come to the conclusion that the pinch in marriage as it exists today lies in the diametrically opposite viewpoints that the modern man and the modern woman hold toward the institution—not all the modern men nor all the modern women, of course, but the average type of each.

It is reflected in almost every communication I get upon the subject. Here, for instance, are two letters selected at random from a pile in front of me:

"Dear Mrs. Woodrow: Will you kindly express your views concerning a wife who gives up her home and husband, stating that she no longer loves him? We were married seven years ago, and lived very happily. My salary is more than sufficient to provide for the support of both of us and the upkeep of our home in comfort. We have enjoyed many of the good things of life and could easily continue to do so, but my wife's craving for the things which are greatly beyond our means was always a jarring note in our little home. What punishment should be levied on a wife who breaks her vows and casts aside the love and respect of one who has always been faithful to her? My heart and home are open to her, and I would gladly welcome her back if she would return."

Another One

The other letter is evidently written in white heat. "I am a woman of forty," it begins, "and have been a good, honest wife for over twenty years, a fine housekeeper. Is there a chance for me to get out and make my own living? I am sick of being a mere drudge of the kitchen, of staying at home and seeing nothing but pots and pans. My husband never takes me out anywhere. When he is home in the evenings, and I want him to go to the movies, he is always too tired.

Mark my words, when woman takes a full hand in the government of this country the institution "approved of St. Paul" is due to get a jolt.
